Police Capture Suspect Wanted For Kidnapings

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Police surrounded a rural home near here Friday, spirited a woman and child to safety and then arrested John Henry Schrimsher, a Texan wanted in connection with two kidnappings involving four persons.

Schrimsher, although armed, offered no resistance as he answered a police call to come out and surrender.

The arrest took place about five miles north of here, near where a car in which Schrimsher and two kidnap victims traveled from Texas was found abandoned earlier.

TRACKED TO HOUSE

Mrs. J. A. Owens, Schrimsher's sister-in-law, told officers he came to the house and told her he needed some sleep. She did not know he was wanted.

Police tracked Schrimsher to the house and surrounded it without alerting the occupants. When Mrs. Owens came outside to check on a barking dog, she told her they were after Schrimsher. She returned inside, brought out her five-year-old daughter and police called Schrimsher out.

Arkansas officers got on Schrimsher's trail after Ray C. Clark, 40, of Fort Worth, and John Nunley, 24, reported they had been bound and left in a Conway motel by a kidnaper.

Nunley said Schrimsher invaded his car at a Beaumont drive-in Thursday afternoon and forced him to drive toward Arkansas. Clark was abducted at Marshall, Tex., about six hours later. Nunley and Clark alternated in driving the car during the overnight trip to Arkansas.

Police at Beaumont said Schrimsher escaped Thursday from two detectives who took him from jail, where he was being held on burglary and felony theft charges, to his home in an attempt to recover some stolen property. Schrimsher disarmed the officers and left them tied up in a tree near Graves.

The detectives, George Cole and E. E. Goodnight, said Schrimsher's wife was with him when he left them. Nunley and Clark said they saw no sign of a woman. Cole and Goodnight said the woman apparently was accompanying Schrimsher reluctantly.

Neither Nunley, a college student, nor Clark, a traveling salesman, was hurt.

Nunley and Clark said Schrimsher took both their wallets and used credit cards from Clark's to buy gasoline during the trip.

Mobutu Stands Firm Against U.N. Pressure

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Congo strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu stood firm Friday against United Nations pressure for the release of Leopoldville's provincial president, and won a round in a struggle for control of this chaos-ridden new African nation.

The president of Leopoldville province, Cleophas Kamitatu, was arrested Thursday night. The move set off new racial disturbances in the capital in which several persons were injured.

Several hundred members of Kamitatu's Bambala tribe gathered in front of U.N. headquarters and fired a volley in the air.

Brig. Gen. Indarjit Rikhye of India, acting chief of the U.N. Mission, spent two hours with Mobutu trying to persuade him to release Kamitatu, a powerful supporter of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Mobutu refused, but assured Rikhye that Kamitatu would not be ill-treated.

Mobutu said he arrested Kamitatu, 29, because of his violent attacks against Congo President Joseph Kasavubu. Mobutu also claimed Kamitatu was concealing vital defense documents.

Stork Costly To Republicans

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A hovering stork may have cost Colorado Republicans control of the state House of Representatives next year.

The Republicans picked up 12 seats held by Democrats in Tuesday's election and dropped only one for a net gain of 11. This left them one seat shy of control.

The seat lost to the Democrats was held by a two-term incumbent, Rep. Anne Thompson. She withdrew without explanation several weeks ago. She had won handily in past elections. The last minute Republican substitute candidate was beaten.

Mrs. Thompson, a Rocky Ford newspaperwoman, disclosed Friday she withdrew because she is expecting a baby in February.

Cuba Offers Canada Cash For Supplies

Parts Needed
For Confiscated
U.S. Machinery

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba launched an all-out campaign Friday to get Canada to supply the country with the vital needs of the industrial machine confiscated from U. S. interests.

Albert A. Shea, director of the "Trade Institute of the Americas," Toronto, said Cuba is ready to pay Canada in cash for "immediate necessities" such as spare parts, trucks, automobiles and agricultural machinery.

SEIZED FROM U.S.

Such supplies would enable the Fidel Castro regime to keep in motion the estimated $400 million in oil refineries, sugar mills, lands seized from American investors earlier this year.

Shea, 44, identified himself as an advertising man, economist and head of the CORE Marketing Research Firm. He said the trade institute was founded only last Oct. 15 as a non-profit organization to develop trade between Canada and Latin America.

He insisted he is "not doing anything contrary to Canadian (government) policy." Canada needs new business to offset depressed conditions, Shea said, and could bring up its present $15 million trade volume with Cuba to $50 or $60 million, if it

Ike Accepts Resignation Of Diplomat

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower Friday accepted the resignation of career diplomat George V. Allen, first of an anticipated wave of high government employees expected to step down in a post-election shuffle.

Allen, a veteran of 30 years in foreign service, is director of U.S. Information Agency. He quit to become president of the Tobacco Institute.

OTHERS TO QUIT

U. S. Ambassador to Mexico Robert C. Hill, Assistant Secretary of Labor Newell Brown and U. S. Ambassador to Ghana Wilson C. Flake all advised the President they wanted to quit their posts soon.

Eisenhower said he intends to appoint Francis H. Russell, present U. S. envoy to New Zealand, to replace Flake in the Ghana post. No other successors were named.

The White House also announced that President Eisenhower's chief assistant Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Pearson will meet Monday at 11 a.m. with Clark Clifford, president-elect John Kennedy's liaison man to begin planning for an orderly transfer of powers. They were expected to set up other meetings between the respective presidential advisers.

President Eisenhower took time out from his golfing vacation to issue his annual Thanksgiving message. He appealed to Americans to think of hungry people in other lands when they offer prayers Nov. 24.

"Let us hope that some day, under a benevolent providence and through the best use of the world's God-given resources, each nation will have reason to celebrate its own Thanksgiving Day," he said.

Allen, who intends to leave the USIA job Dec. 1 after three years as the man responsible for projecting America's image abroad, was involved in a campaign controversy.

West Dealt U.N. Defeat On Elections

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Asian-African group teamed up with the Soviet bloc Friday and won a significant postponement of General Assembly elections to fill vacancies on the Security Council. The victory was achieved over strong opposition from the United States.

The postponement maneuver was a show of power to reinforce Asian and African claims to equitable continental sharing in the rotating, non-permanent Council memberships.

SECOND DEFEAT

The Africans particularly are campaigning for Council representation by right of numbers and area rather than by chance or by affiliations such as in the British Commonwealth.

Latin America and Europe are constantly represented in the Security Council's smaller nation seats, but Africa and Asia are there only intermittently.

The postponement was the second defeat this week for the United States and its supporters in the 99-nation Assembly. It demonstrated clearly how the West now can be outvoted by the combination of the newly augmented Asian-African group and any other bloc.

By a vote of 51-38, with 9 abstentions, the assembly supported a move by Nigeria, one of the recently admitted African member nations, to postpone elections to the Security and the Economic-Social Councils.

This came on the heels of Assembly action Wednesday night when the United States and its supporters failed to prevent postponement of debate on the Congo.

Friday it was Jaja Wachuku, 42, European-educated Nigerian delegate, who submitted the motion for postponement of the elections.

He said he spoke in the name of the entire 43-nation Asian-African bloc.

Chimpanzees 'Flop' As Plant Workers

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Three chimpanzees in waterproof waders and red overalls went to work in a furniture factory Friday and proved in about 90 minutes that the working man still has more to fear from automation than the zoo.

The chimpanzees — Candy, Fudgie and Bobby — actually slowed down work in the Superior Furniture Manufacturing Co. plant. Human workers stopped, laughed at the chimpanzees and made wisecracks like "here comes your cousin, Joe."

Ben Friedman, 35, manager of the factory, whose idea it was to work chimpanzees, summed up the result of his experiment with "Work has been done. Miles of film are rolling."

As for the work: Bobby pushed a button on a bedding compartment machine, posed for pictures with the form and packed the wrapped legs of a lounge in a carton with a pillow. Then he did hand springs and jumped up and down on a conveyor belt.

Fudgie closed the cartons after Bobby put in the legs. Candy, the only female among the three chimps, zipped up sofa covers.

Manuel King, the owner and trainer of the chimpanzees, took them home after 90 minutes. He said the 50 reporters, photographers and television newsreel cameramen present made them nervous and they couldn't do their best.

Nixon's Win Hopes Slight On Recheck

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's press secretary said Friday Nixon does not intend to dispute John F. Kennedy's election to the presidency.

Their declarations, to a news conference, ran contrary to earlier word from an aide to the Republican National Committee that Nixon and GOP chairman Thurston B. Morton had jointly approved a decision that could lead to possible vote recounts in 11 states.

GIVES VIEWS

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said:

"The vice president ran the race and accepts the decision of the voters. The decision made on Tuesday stands."

Morton asked Republican leaders in 11 states to recheck the vote in their areas for possible error or fraud with a view to possible entering of recount demands.

Robert Finch, Nixon's campaign manager, said he thought little could come of the maneuver. He said it could throw the outcome into the hands of uncommitted electors or into the House of Representatives which is in the hands of Democrats.

Finch added: "Any hopes we have that the national result will be overturned by local action in the states is very slight."

Nixon was asked about the national committee action upon his arrival at Miami Fla., for a rest. He said he knew nothing about it.

The Republican committee said it had been "literally flooded with thousands of telegrams and phone calls from every state."

Finch and Klein said Nixon and members of his staff had received

Absentees Cut Kennedy's Edge In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The first 3,400 of more than 200,000 absentee ballots to be counted for president in California edged Vice President Richard M. Nixon closer to President-elect John F. Kennedy Friday in their tug for the state's 32 electoral votes.

But Nixon's ratio of gain was far short of what he needs to overcome the 37,140 vote advantage Kennedy was given at the polls Tuesday. The Friday count of absentees cut Kennedy's margin by 438 to 33,702.

Nixon needs an almost 2:1 ratio of the absentees if he is to get his home state into the Republican column.

The ratios of gain in the two counties reporting absentees were only 4:3 and 5:4. Both reporting counties, NAPA in the north and San Luis Obispo on the central coast, were carried by Nixon.

The overall absentee vote including some 90,000 of the most populous county, Los Angeles, is not expected to be known before Tuesday. Many cities, including San Francisco and San Diego, will not begin their count until after Monday, the last day when county clerks can accept the official ballots.

The total of California's absentee ballots adds up to about one for every 28 directly cast at the polls Tuesday. James Allison, the assistant registrar for Los Angeles County, said California's absentee total is larger than most other states because California laws are more liberal.

Daniel Names Senator Choice

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel said Friday his first choice for a temporary Senator to replace Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson is William A. Blakley, 62, financier, banker and rancher who served three months as an interim Senator in 1957, talked with Daniel Thursday.

"Governor Daniel has suggested he will tender the appointment to me," Blakley said. "I have not made any decision. I am thinking about it."

Johnson said appointment of his successor "is a matter for the governor. It's exclusively his business."

LOUISIANA HOUSE SPEAKER Tom Jewell raises his hand and says "that's all, gentlemen," as he ended a press conference Friday. Jewell announced the current legislative session will return at 3 p.m. Sunday and said the meeting "may have some connection" with the federal court restraining orders issued on school integration in New Orleans. IN VIET NAM Forces Of Diem Rout Revolters

SAIGON (UPI) — Paratroopers who attempted to overthrow the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam in a coup were routed today by American-trained and American equipped infantry divisions loyal to the president.

Diem's men, backed by 16 tanks moved into the city of Saigon and headed towards the palace where the president was besieged. They quickly overcame the resistance of the paratroopers who had attempted to oust Diem in Friday's revolt.

The shooting lasted about 45 minutes.

DAY AFTER UPRISING
It came a full day after security forces staged an uprising against the Diem regime.

The insurgents apparently prevailed for a time but apparently established no decisive hold over the city.

Girl, 2, Gets Help For Aunt Via Telephone

MADISON, N. J. (AP)—Ronda Pitts, 2, who likes to play with the telephone, summoned aid for an unconscious aunt Friday.

The child picked up the telephone and dialed the operator shortly after her aunt Miss Helen Day, 42, had suffered a stroke.

Ronda sobbed into the receiver. "My aunt is having a stroke," and hung up. The operator traced the call and notified police who dispatched a first aid unit.

Police found Miss Day unconscious on the kitchen floor of the home she shares with Ronda and her parents. She regained consciousness after oxygen was administered and later was reported in good condition.

No one else was home at the time.

Ronda's mother, Mrs. June Pitts Jr., said later the child often played with a toy telephone and was allowed occasionally to dial numbers on the house phone. Mrs. Pitts said Ronda knew of earlier strokes suffered by Miss Day.

Warming Trend Remains Today

Skies will be clear to partly cloudy today following another cold, near-freezing night, but the temperatures will warm up today and stay that way through the night.

The high predicted today ranges from 64 to 68 and the overnight low is expected to be from 36 to 42.

Winds will be variable from five to 10 miles per hour.

Court Order Restrains All Interference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All Louisiana mayors, sheriffs, chief of police and district attorneys Friday were under federal court order to keep out of the New Orleans school integration dispute.

U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright signed the order about 6 p.m. Thursday, and marshals Friday served some Louisiana officials.

The state officials were restrained from:

Interfering with any U.S. deputy marshals or other federal employees serving warrants or summonses or who attempt to arrest anyone under criminal procedure.

From enforcing Act No. 2 of the Louisiana Legislature's special session, which throws the sovereignty of the state against the federal courts to stop integration.

And from obstructing or interfering in any way with implementation of federal court decrees and orders by U. S. officers.

Sheriff Bryan Clemmons of East Baton Rouge Parish, mayor-president Jack Christian, Police Chief Shirley Arrighi and Dist. Atty. J. St. Clair Favrot of East Baton Rouge were among state officers served papers to halt any interference.

The order says it applies to all district attorneys, sheriffs and municipal police in the state as a "class."

Others cited by name are Gov. James H. Davis; Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremlion; Murphy Riden, state director of public safety; Richard A. Dowling, Orleans district attorney; Louis A. Heyd, Orleans criminal sheriff; Mayor de Lesseps Morrison of New Orleans and Joseph Giarrusso, police superintendent in New Orleans.

AFTER HEART-BREAK

Mother, Daughter In Happy Reunion

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—A smiling woman from the Bronx, N. Y., who only two days ago was making heavy-hearted plans to bury her daughter, arrived by plane Friday to hold her hand and feel its warmth of life.

"I'm going to hold to Mary's hand and stay with her every minute I'm allowed," said Mrs. John F. Schnell as she took up her vigil by the hospital bed of Mary Hawthorne, 26, victim of a car smashup—a case of mistaken identification.

Until Thursday, Thomas Frost of Philadelphia had sat beside the same bed, believing the girl heavily swathed in bandages was his daughter, Joan Frost. Back East, Joan's body was in a sealed casket and Mrs. Schnell was prepared to bury it as her daughter, Mary.

Mary, Joan, and two other girls, all American Airline stewardesses wearing identical uniforms, having identical hairdos and carrying identical purses, were in a taxi on its way to the San Francisco airport Monday.

A car smashup killed one girl and the taxi driver, seriously injured the other three and so scattered their personal possessions that an identification mistake was made on the basis of purses and papers.

The mistake was discovered when friends of Mary Hawthorne had the casket opened in New York so a ring Mary prized, but didn't wear because of a chipped fingernail, could be placed on her finger.

State Takes Protective N.O. Steps

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — State and city police threw protective guards around a federal judge and segregationists Friday as they battled over the city's schools.

City police assigned a 24-hour guard here to U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright, who ordered integration of first-grade classes in New Orleans Monday.

SUBJECT TO ARREST

A new segregation law makes any federal official working to effect school integration subject to arrest by state police.

State police set up protective measures around segregation leaders involved in the clash with the federal government.

Asst. Supt. of state police Thomas Burbank conferred with Davis at the capitol yesterday amid reports that additional state troopers would be sent to New Orleans to deal with the situation Monday.

Gov. Davis, at the same time, was not to be found. Reports indicated that he might be in seclusion with Chris Fraser, one of his chief lieutenants.

On the federal scene, U. S. Attorney M. H. Many of New Orleans confirmed that additional federal marshals had arrived in New Orleans and more were on their way.

They are needed, he said, to serve processes in the ensuing court fight over the schools.

U. S. Justice Department troubleshooter St. John Barrett was reported in New Orleans. He was sent here from Washington.

He is second assistant attorney

Illinois Fraud Charged, GOP To Ask Recount

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois Republicans, charging vote frauds in Chicago's Democratic wards cost Richard M. Nixon the state's 27 electoral votes, promised Friday to finance a recount of Cook County ballots.

The action parallels a move by the Republican National Committee to seek a recount of votes in 11 states including Illinois. Nixon, according to unofficial tallies, lost Illinois by less than 5,500 votes to Democrat John F. Kennedy.

Cook County State's Atty. Benjamin S. Adamowski, who apparently lost his re-election bid by 25,132 votes to Democrat Daniel P. Ward, said Republicans will deposit the $18,000 necessary for a preliminary recount of voting machines.

Republican Elbert Smith, who was defeated by about 40,000 votes in trying for another term as state auditor, said Republican "leaders at the national level—the Nixon backers—have assured Adamowski that they will produce" financial help for the recount.

H. G. Taylor, Macon County GOP chairman, said he understands the national committee would provide half of the recount costs.

Adamowski said he will file recount petitions Monday with the County Clerk and the Board of Election Commissioners. The board is expected to conclude its official tally of votes Nov. 21.

All but 13 of the state's 10,013 precincts have reported. The 13 missing precincts are in Cook County. A board spokesman said he doubted the total vote from the 13 would be sufficient to change the outcome as it now stands.

A new segregation law makes any federal official working to effect school integration subject to arrest by state police.

State police set up protective measures around segregation leaders involved in the clash with the federal government.

Asst. Supt. of state police Thomas Burbank conferred with Davis at the capitol yesterday amid reports that additional state troopers would be sent to New Orleans to deal with the situation Monday.

Gov. Davis, at the same time, was not to be found. Reports indicated that he might be in seclusion with Chris Faser, one of his chief lieutenants.

On the federal scene, U. S. Attorney M. H. Many of New Orleans confirmed that additional federal marshals had arrived in New Orleans and more were on their way.

They are needed, he said, to serve processes in the ensuing court fight over the schools.

U. S. Justice Department troubleshooter St. John Barrett was sent here from Washington.

Court Order
Restrains All Interference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All Louisiana mayors, sheriffs, chief of police and district attorneys Friday were under federal court order to keep out of the New Orleans school integration dispute.

U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright signed the order about 6 p.m. Thursday, and marshals Friday served some Louisiana officials.

The state officials were restrained from:

Interfering with any U.S. deputy marshals or other federal employees serving warrants or summonses or who attempt to arrest anyone under criminal procedure.

From enforcing Act. No. 2 of the Louisiana Legislature's special session, which throws the sovereignty of the state against the federal courts to stop integration.

And from obstructing or interfering in any way with implementation of federal court decrees and orders by U. S. officers.

Sheriff Bryan Clemmons of East Baton Rouge Parish, mayor-president Jack Christian, Police Chief Shirley Arrighi and Dist. Atty. J. St. Clair Favrot of East Baton Rouge were among state officers served papers to halt any interference.

The order says it applies to all district attorneys, sheriffs and municipal police in the state as a "class."

Others cited by name are Gov. James H. Davis; Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion; Murphy Roden, state director of public safety; Richard A. Powling, Orleans district attorney; Louis A. Heyd, Orleans criminal sheriff; Mayor de Lesseps Morrison of New Orleans and Joseph Giarrusso, police superintendent in New Orleans.

Seven Members Of Family Die
In Road Crash

ELBURN, Ill. (AP) — Seven members of the Richard W. Chidester family, returning from a hospital visit to Chidester's youngest son, were killed Friday night when their car and a truck collided three miles south of Elburn.

The victims were identified as Chidester, 29; his wife, Evelyn, 25; four of their children, Richard Jr., 8, Ramona, 6, Robin, 3, and Kim, 2, all of Elburn, and Mrs. Chidester's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, 44, of Albia, Iowa.

The truck driver, Orin Scheer, 21, of Manhattan, Ill., told authorities the Chidester car crossed the center line, hit the left front of his truck, then apparently went partially under the bigger vehicle, killing all inside.

Scheer's trailer-truck jackknifed and toppled over, but he escaped uninjured.

The Chidesters were returning from a visit to 1-year-old Thomas Chidester, who is in an Aurora hospital with a severe virus condition. He is the Chidesters' sole survivor.

Scheer is a driver for the M. E. Cawgwin Trucking Co. of Lockport, Ill.

Elburn is a community of less than 1,000 population in Kane County about 35 miles west of Chicago.

AFTER HEART-BREAK

Mother, Daughter
In Happy Reunion

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—A smiling woman from the Bronx, N. Y., who only two days ago was making heavy-hearted plans to bury her daughter, arrived by plane Friday to hold her hand and feel its warmth of life.

"I'm going to hold to Mary's hand and stay with her every minute I'm allowed," said Mrs. John F. Schnell as she took up her vigil by the hospital bed of Mary Hawthorne, 26, victim of a car smash-up and a case of mistaken identification.

Until Thursday, Thomas Frost of Philadelphia had sat beside the same bed, believing the girl heavily swathed in bandages was his daughter, Joan Frost. Back East, Joan's body was in a sealed casket and Mrs. Schnell was prepared to bury it as her daughter, Mary.

Mary, Joan, and two other girls, all American Airline stewardesses wearing identical uniforms, having identical hairdos and carrying identical purses, were in a taxi on its way to the San Francisco airport Monday.

A car smash-up killed one girl and the taxi driver, seriously injured the other three and so scattered their personal possessions that an identification mistake was made on the basis of purses and papers.

The mistake was discovered when friends of Mary Hawthorne had the casket opened in New York so a ring Mary prized, but didn't wear because of a chipped fingernail, could be placed on her finger.

Wachuku said the issue of enlarging the Council is being debated in the Assembly's special political committee and many Asian-African delegates must consult with their governments before they can take part in the elections.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth spoke out against postponement.

He blamed the difficulty confronting the Council on the Soviet Union, which has said it will veto any move for enlarging the council unless it can take a seat in the United Nations.

Ambassador Carlos Sosa Rodriguez of Venezuela spoke as the representative of the 20-nation Latin American bloc in opposing postponement.

Cuban Ambassador Manuel Bisse told the Assembly his delegation was not consulted by the U.S. to the peak of its effectiveness. State Takes Protective N.O. Steps general in the civil rights division.

However, a U. S. deputy marshal served federal restraining orders in Baton Rouge on State Rep. Hickey Triche, chairman of a special committee the legislature directed to take over New Orleans schools.

The orders warn Triche not to interfere with school integration. Triche thumbed through the papers and commented only:

"The last time I was in a lawsuit I had a good lawyer. Anybody want to be my lawyer now?"

U. S. Atty. M. Hepburn Many confirmed reports that many more U. S. marshals were on their way to Louisiana to handle service of the federal restraining orders.

Two deputy marshals went to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' office and tried three doors without success. Capitol offices were closed for Veterans Day.

The Associated Press learned state police officials had been served with papers telling them to keep out of the struggle.

Meanwhile, Gov. Davis, in his second surprise move in 24 hours, called the legislature back into session at 3 p.m. Sunday — 18 hours before five Negro girls are scheduled to enter two white schools in New Orleans.

Their identities and the schools they are to attend are being kept secret.

Presumably, Davis issued the call so segregationist-bent lawmakers would be together, ready for whatever comes Monday.

By calling the legislature into session, Davis placed lawmakers under a section of the state constitution that makes legislative members immune from arrest when in session. The immunity does not apply to cases of breaches of the peace and felonies.

At the opening phase of the session earlier this week, a bill anti-integration package through the legislature. It gave the state broad new power over schools.

Wright countered by issuing restraining orders on Thursday warning state officials to keep hands off New Orleans schools.

Wright's orders banned enforcement of the new segregation laws and prohibited state authorities from interfering with school integration.

In a new development Friday, New Orleans State Rep. Edward LeBreton Jr. said a move is reportedly being made to oust the five-member New Orleans School Board.

The board regained control over schools Thursday from a newly created legislative committee and promptly authorized admission of the five Negro pupils into white schools. Their transfer was ordered by Wright in a previous decision.

In Baton Rouge, House Speaker Tom Jewell said the Sunday session will convene to make technical changes in the segregationist program. He said he didn't contemplate any new legislation.

Jewell said the meeting may have some connection with the federal court restraining orders. But, he added, he did not "foresee any plans on interposition at this time."

The key interposition bills assert Louisiana's refusal to accept as constitutional the 1954 U. S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing school segregation.

At Baton Rouge, a segregation leader said Friday night the legislature will continue to exercise its constitutional and legal powers in the school fight.

Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr., member of a legislative committee which seized control of the New Orleans school to prevent integration, assured New Orleans the schools will be kept open and segregated.

The legislature will continue to exercise its powers, he said, although "there are certain parties in Orleans Parish trying to thwart us to this end."

Gravolet and others commented after a rather afternoon-long strategy session among segregation and state sovereignty leaders from over the state. The group met in the capitol for the second straight day.

Frank Voelker Jr., chairman of the State Sovereignty Commission, said federal injunctions to block the legislature and state officials were expected but "we were hoping they would not take such drastic action."

Voelker said he was sure the Orleans group opposing the legislature has good intention but "we are cognizant of a very serious responsibility to the people not only of this state but other states as well."

hundreds of telegrams and many phone calls urging an investigation into alleged election irregularities. Finch said many of these merely repeated hearsay information.

Asked for specific instances, Finch said that in Texas it was reported that 50,000 ballots were thrown out because voters did not comply with a technicality of state law by scratching out all of the names of those they opposed for president and leaving intact the name of the man they were voting for.

Nixon lost Texas to Kennedy by about 50,000 votes. But Finch said he had no way of knowing how many Republican votes were thrown out. He said that it is his understanding that ballots had been impounded in 13 counties in New Mexico, which Kennedy carried by a small margin.

Finch said he had been urged by telephone and wires to "check into vote frauds in Philadelphia." But he said no one had come forward with any evidence to support fraud claims.

The Democratic high command showed no alarm. Chairman Henry M. Jackson, remarking at Seattle, Wash., that the Republican action "appears to be based merely on the fact that they've lost a close election." He also said it appears to be "a fishing expedition on a grand scale."

The Republican complaints demanded recounts and investigations of purported vote frauds in Tuesday's presidential election. Morton said. He also reported the vice president's office as receiving "thousands of telegrams and calls."

Morton announced that as a result of the requests, he was asking state and county Republican chairmen in 11 states "to take any necessary action to determine specific complaints and file them with the local U. S. attorney's offices so that we can proceed with the investigation of these reports."

Morton listed the 11 states, which have a total of 161 electoral votes, in alphabetical order in his formal statement. In an earlier talk with a reporter the chairman had laid special stress on Illinois and Texas.

The other nine: Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and South Carolina. Illinois, on the basis of almost completed unofficial returns, is credited to President-elect John F. Kennedy by a popular vote edge of 2,368,995 to 2,353,209. It has 27 electoral votes. Texas, credited to Kennedy by 1,103,617 to 1,033,469, has 24.

Kennedy's current electoral vote total is 332. If by any chance Texas and Illinois were shifted to the Nixon column, Kennedy would still have 281 electoral votes, or 12 more than the 269 needed to win.

However, the vote in California is still razor-thin and there is a mathematical chance it could shift its 32 votes from Kennedy to Nixon on absentee ballots. A Texas, Illinois and California shift could make Nixon the winner with 274 votes.

Nixon, and also President Eisenhower, has conceded the election of Kennedy — actions which have no legal significance. However, little or nothing may come of the actions put into motion today.

The committee said that while telegrams came in from every state, investigations were to be pressed only where the most serious charges had been raised.

Cuba Offers Canada Cash For Supplies

took advantage of the present U. S. embargo on exports to Cuba.

Shea said he is trying to put interested Canadian businessmen in contact with the Castro government without the official backing or support of the Ottawa government. Where possible, he said, Cuba would like a barter exchange with Canada and would purchase more from that country if Canada would increase its imports from Cuba.

"Under present circumstances, trade must be mainly in essential supplies," he said. He pointed out that Canada makes machinery and spare parts to American specifications "therefore, there is a wide field for us to quadruple or quintuple our trade in a short time."

He said he had received from the Castro government a long list of available items for export to Canada, including sugar.

The controlled government press gave wide prominence to Shea's trade views. Shea was quoted as having conferred with economy Minister Itzino Boti. Cuban export bank director Jacinto Torres and others on "Cuba's desire to trade with Canada."

African group. In the vote only one member of the group, Dahomey, was opposed. Four members abstained — Gabon, Cyprus, Japan and Turkey.

Wachuku said the issue of enlarging the Council is being debated in the Assembly's special political committee and many Asian-African delegates must consult with their governments before they can take part in the elections.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth spoke out against postponement.

He blamed the difficulty confronting the Council on the Soviet Union, which has said it will veto any move for enlarging the council unless Red China can take a seat in the United Nations.

Ambassador Carlos Sosa Rodriguez of Venezuela spoke as the representative of the 20-nation Latin American bloc in opposing postponement.

Cuban Ambassador Manuel Biste told the Assembly his delegation was not consulted by others in the Latin American group and he would support postponement.

Chile, the United Arab Republic and Portugal are candidates for two-year terms on the 11-nation Security Council. Some African diplomats are reported working to put an African nation on the Council instead of Portugal a seat allotted to Western Europe.

State Takes Protective N.O. Steps

general in the civil rights division.

However, a U. S. deputy marshal served federal restraining orders in Baton Rouge on State Rep. Risley Triche, chairman of a special committee the legislature directed to take over New Orleans schools.

The orders warn Triche not to interfere with school integration. Triche thumbed through the papers and commented only:

"The last time I was in a lawsuit I had a good lawyer. Anybody want to be my lawyer now?"

U. S. Atty. M. Hepburn Many confirmed reports that many more U. S. marshals were on their way to Louisiana to handle service of the federal restraining orders.

Two deputy marshals went to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' office and tried three doors without success. Capitol offices were closed for Veterans Day.

The Associated Press learned state police officials had been served with papers telling them to keep out of the struggle.

Meanwhile, Gov. Davis, in his second surprise move in 24 hours, called the legislature back into session at 3 p.m. Sunday — 18 hours before five Negro girls are scheduled to enter two white schools in New Orleans.

Their identities and the schools they are to attend are being kept secret.

Presumably, Davis issued the call so segregationist-bent lawmakers would be together, ready for whatever comes Monday.

By calling the legislature into session, Davis place lawmakers under a section of the state constitution that makes legislative members immune from arrest when in session. The immunity does not apply to cases of breaches of the peace and felonies.

At the opening phase of the first session earlier this week, segregation leaders passed a 28-bill anti-integration package through the legislature. It gave the state broad, new power over schools.

Wright countered by issuing restraining orders on Thursday warning state officials to keep hands off New Orleans schools.

Wright's orders banned enforcement of the new segregation laws and prohibited state authorities from interfering with school integration.

In a new development Friday, New Orleans State Rep. Edward LeBreton Jr. said a move is reportedly being made to oust the five-member New Orleans School Board.

The board regained control over schools Thursday from a newly created legislative committee and promptly authorized admission of the five Negro pupils into white schools. Their transfer was ordered by Wright in a previous decision.

In Baton Rouge, House Speaker Tom Jewell said the Sunday session will convene to make technical changes in the segregationist program. He said he didn't contemplate any new legislation.

Jewell said the meeting may have some connection with the federal court restraining orders. But, he added, he did not "foresee any plans on interposition at this time."

The key interposition bills assert Louisiana's refusal to accept as constitutional the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing school segregation.

At Baton Rouge, a segregation leader said Friday night the legislature will continue to exercise its constitutional and legal powers in the school fight.

Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr., member of a legislative committee which seized control of the New Orleans school to prevent integration, assured New Orleans the schools will be kept open and segregated.

The legislature will continue to exercise its powers, he said, although "there are certain parties in Orleans Parish trying to thwart us to this end."

Gravolet and others commented after another afternoon-long strategy session among segregation and state sovereignty leaders from over the state. The group met in the capitol for the second straight day.

Frank Voelker Jr., chairman of the State Sovereignty Commission, said federal injunctions to block the legislature and state officials were expected but, "we were hoping they would not take such drastic action."

Voelker said he was sure the Orleans group opposing the legislature has good intention but "we are cognizant of a very serious responsibility to the people not only of this state but other states as well."

Ragan Madden, president of the Louisiana District Attorneys Association, and other state district attorneys met with the group. Madden said they were serving as legal advisors to the group and "we are about to give up the fight."

Rep. L. D. Napper, member of the legal committee named in connection with the state's interposition move, said, "We are confident we will keep the schools open."

Triche said, "there was never any plan to close the schools. We were trying to buy time."

There were reports that an interposition suit may be filed in state court.

Jewell also said he does not believe Wright's restraining order limits the legislative committee in its control of Orleans public schools.

Chairman Frank Voelker of the state sovereignty commission said he imagined the Sunday session was "to keep the legislature in

Arrest Negroes In Beating Case

Monroe police Friday took into custody a Negro man and woman in the Thursday beating of a Negro man.

Arrested were Lenroy Thomas, 45, 115 S. 7th St., and Bernice Dixon, who gave her address as the same as that of Thomas.

Each were charged with aggravated battery in the beating of Dempsy Watson of Monroe.

The victim was hospitalized at E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital.

session "to do whatever is necessary."

Based on the $168,000 price tag for the 12-day special session, it costs $14,000 a day to keep the legislature in session.

Triche said as far as he knows his committee is still running the New Orleans schools.

He said a series of strategy meetings are going on at the capitol and elsewhere.

Commenting on the school board, Triche said:

"The position of the New Orleans school board is not one to protect the schools from closure in the face of token integration. It is one of affirmative action in compliance with the plaintiffs to seek integration of New Orleans schools."

Triche continued: "I don't think that's being honest with the legislature, the governor or the people of New Orleans—white or Negro."

"If they want integration, they ought to tell us. If they rate that 40,000 vote Matthew Sutherland got as a mandate to integrate, they ought to tell us."

Sutherland was re-elected over three segregationists to the board Tuesday. He ran on a program of open schools, even if there must be token integration.

Belief that the legislature planned to address the Orleans Parish school board out of office followed a denunciation in Baton Rouge by Triche. He charged that the board was "acting in complicity" with persons seeking to integrate the public schools.

Commenting on the rumor, Rep. Edward LeBreton of Orleans Parish said, "If this is true, I will positively vote against addressing elected officials out of office."

"It is my understanding that the law provides for recalling impeachment of elected officials and I therefore think it is out of order for the legislature to address elected officials out of office."

LeBreton, who was appointed as a member of the legislative committee to run the New Orleans schools, said he had not resigned from the committee but that, as far as he is concerned, it is inactive. He said he would not meet with the committee.

Nixon's Win Hopes Slight On Recheck

hundreds of telegrams and many phone calls urging an investigation into alleged election irregularities. Finch said many of these merely repeated hearsay information.

Asked for specific instances, Finch said that in Texas it was reported that 50,000 ballots were thrown out because voters did not comply with a technicality of state law by scratching out all of the names of those they opposed for president and leaving intact the name of the man they were voting for.

Nixon lost Texas to Kennedy by about 50,000 votes. But Finch said he had no way of knowing how many Republican votes were thrown out. He said that it is his understanding that ballots had been impounded in 13 counties in New Mexico, which Kennedy carried by a small margin.

Finch said he had been urged by telephone and wires to "check into vote frauds in Philadelphia." But he said no one had come forward with any evidence to support fraud claims.

The Democratic high command showed no alarm, Chairman Henry M. Jackson remarking at Seattle, Wash., that the Republican action "appears to be based merely on the fact that they've lost a close election." He also said it appears to be "a fishing expedition on a grand scale."

The Republican complaints demanded recounts and investigations of purported vote frauds in Tuesday's presidential election, Morton said. He also reported the vice president's office as receiving "thousands of telegrams and calls."

Morton announced that as a result of the requests, he was asking state and county Republican chairmen in 11 states "to take any necessary action to determine specific complaints and file them with the local U.S. attorney's offices so that we can proceed with the investigation of these reports."

Morton listed the 11 states, which have a total of 161 electoral votes, in alphabetical order in his formal statement. In an earlier talk with "porter the chairman had had special stress on Illinois and Texas."

The other nine: Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and South Carolina. Illinois, on the basis of almost completed unofficial returns, is credited to President-elect John F. Kennedy by a popular vote edge of 2,368,995 to 2,333,209. It has 27 electoral votes. Texas, credited to Kennedy by 1,103,617 to 1,053,469, has 24.

Kennedy's current electoral vote total is 332. If by any chance Texas and Illinois were shifted to the Nixon column, Kennedy would still have 281 electoral votes, or 12 more than the 269 needed to win.

However, the vote in California is still razor-thin and there is a mathematical chance it could shift its 32 votes from Kennedy to Nixon on absentee ballots. A Texas, Illinois and California shift could make Nixon the winner with 274 votes.

Nixon, and also President Eisenhower, has conceded the election of Kennedy — actions which have no legal significance. However, little or nothing may come of the actions put into motion today.

The committee said that while telegrams came in from every state, investigations were to be pressed only where the most serious charges had been raised.

took advantage of the present U. S. Embargo on exports to Cuba.

Shea said he is trying to put interested Canadian businessmen in contact with the Castro government without the official backing or support of the Ottawa government. Where possible, he said, Cuba would like a barter exchange with Canada and would purchase more from that country if Canada would increase its imports from Cuba.

"Under present circumstances, trade must be mainly in essential supplies," he said. He pointed out that Canada makes machinery and spare parts to American specifications "therefore, there is a wide field for us to quadruple or quintuple our trade in a short time."

He said he had received from the Castro government a long list of available items for export to Canada, including sugar.

The controlled government press gave wide prominence to Shea's trade views. Shea was quoted as having conferred with economy Minister Rezino Boti, Cuban expert bank director Jacinto Torres and others on "Cuba's desire to trade with Canada."

Financial transactions could be handled through Canada's two banks in Havana, the Royal Bank of Canada and the Bank of Nova Scotia, Shea said.

Socialistic Bills

A newspaper headline, "Congress to get socialistic bills," emphasizes the losing fight that will be faced by conservatives and states' right supporters during the coming session of Congress. The session will be a resumption of those held during the presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt, when this country traveled far down the road toward socialism and from where it had been able to make only a scanty return. Now the progress down the road leading away from free enterprise and individual freedom will be resumed, unless the conservatives make a mighty effort.

Some Democratic leaders are exulting at their renewed control of the house and senate and are forecasting swift enactment of key portions of President-elect John F. Kennedy's radical-liberal legislative program.

During the present administration, which will come to an end in January, the Democrats controlled both house and senate but a fairly good balance was maintained by the fact that the country had a Republican president who believed in the fundamental principles of Americanism and also by the fact that southern and other conservatives and believers in states' rights went along with the more conservative Republican minority. Many radically socialistic measures were thus sidetracked in one or the other of the two houses and the fear of a presidential veto forced moderation of many other measures.

Now we face the prospect of seeing the radical - liberals run rampant, with little prospect that they can be halted or even deterred, President-elect Kennedy, while not as radical as some of his cohorts, has pledged himself to a socialistic program. This he will carry out for two principal reasons, the first being that he probably will consider the vote of the people a "mandate," and the second being that he will enjoy going along with the jubilation of the leftists who want to pattern this country after Russia.

In reality, the election of Kennedy is no mandate from the people. He carried the nation by only the narrowest of margins and did not receive a majority of the ballots.

In other words, more than half of the people in this country voted against Kennedy. Vice - President M. Nixon received almost as many popular votes as were received by Kennedy and the votes cast for States' Rights tickets and some splinter parties in several states took Kennedy's vote down below 50 per cent.

Furthermore, Kennedy's vote consisted largely of blocs. He received practically a solid vote of the Catholics, while the Protestants, voting mostly on other issues and accepting the statement that religion should not be an issue, divided their votes, to some extent between Nixon and Kennedy. Kennedy also received Negro votes in blocs, Puerto Rican votes in blocs, votes of the foreign element in blocs, and votes of other minorities in blocs. He also profited by pulling the big city political organizations in the major states into his column, by offers of juicy political favors.

In many of these cities, the votes of the citizens are controlled by ward leaders and the people there vote largely like a bunch of sheep casting their ballots for whatever candidate the ward leaders favor.

On the basis of figures alone, more people were against Kennedy than for him. In addition, hundreds of thousands of others were not voting their choices but were in reality casting "captive" votes for the reason that they felt bound to vote the way their so-called minority leaders or their ward leaders told them to vote.

Kennedy and the left-wingers have set up in this country a situation that pleases Russia to the utmost. They have set up class against class, race against race, religion against religion and have arranged it so the co-called minorities feel compelled to vote against their own convictions and against the best interests of their country for the sake of making their influence felt, even though it may be felt in a way that they know is detrimental.

Some of the leaders in congress are fundamentally middle-of-the-roads, shuddering at the thought of the socialistic program which they will be called upon to pass. Even Vice-President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the senate, is far to the right of President-elect Kennedy and even a greater distance to the right than some of Kennedy's leaders, but he is an opportunist who will do anything for political advancement. He will be largely relieved of the onus of directing enactment of socialistic legislation by the fact that he will be vice-president, instead of senate leader. Sam Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the house is not a leftist but he is also an opportunist and has announced plans for promoting Kennedy's socialistic program.

Rayburn has promised early house passage of such measures as a federal school construction bill, medical care for the aged and relief for chronically depressed areas, all of them patterned after Russia's socialistic or communistic system.

The radical-liberal bloc is already planning to rob committees of their power to decide on bills, thus preventing conservatives from getting proper consideration of measures.

Rayburn, doubtless with some authorization from Kennedy, has announced that there will be no immediate raises or cuts in taxes. In view of the huge spending program planned by Kennedy this can mean only one of two things— inflation or bankruptcy. Since no country is going broke as long as it can take whatever money it needs from the people, money undoubtedly will be inflated about 25 per cent, so that the additional revenue will be brought in. With a new spiral of wage increases, income and costs eventually will about level off for the average worker but those on pensions and other fixed incomes will be caught in a trap.

Kennedy has said we must sacrifice although there was no apparent need for any such sacrifices as he contemplates making the people endure.

Even with the gloomy outlook of financial sacrifices, there are other things we must fear more, and guard against if we can.

With the extreme leftists in the saddle, the things we must now fear most are total engulfment by socialism, and war, or both.

Louisiana's High Vote

Louisiana has at least one thing of which it can be proud in connection with the recent presidential election.

An estimated 66 per cent of the state's 1,152,151 registered voters went to the polls, topping by far both the 1952 and 1956 turnouts.

This healthy sign undoubtedly was accounted for by several factors, chief among which were the extraordinarily intensive campaigns carried on by the candidates and their supporters, and the fact that the polls conducted prior to the election always showed the race would be extremely close. If the polls has been overwhelmingly in favor of one candidate or the other there would have been less interest and less voting.

Voters of the state are to be commended for their interest and activity.

No one is sure of the height of Mt. Everest, the highest mountain in the world. A British survey showed it to be 29,002 feet while the Indians claim it's 29,028 feet.

Reds Argue War Necessity
Khrushchev Thinks World Revolution Can Be Accomplished
Without It, Mao Believes It Essential

The Communist world meets at its summit not to discuss events but ideas. To such practical men as have been managing the presidential campaign in the United States, this meeting at the summit of the Communist leaders of all the world is called to settle a question that affects the life of every human being in this world:

"Can the world revolution be accomplished without a war to destroy the capitalistic nations?"

Khrushchev believes that it can be done without a war;

Mao Tze-tung believes that a war is essential.

This is a contest over fundamental changes in society. Lenin accepted that thesis but added to it guile, infiltration, the stimulation of suicidal tendencies among strong but liberal nations. Both Marx and Lenin were strictly theoreticians although Lenin for a few years before his death had to face the very practical problems of governing a large country. Stalin was not a theoretician. He had to deal with very practical problems. He could not wait for the world revolution but had to establish socialism in one country and as fast as possible. He permitted no time-wasting deviations. He resurrected Ivan the Terrible and Russian nationalism and became an absolute monarch. His achievements were stupendous; probably unequalled in history, but they were accomplished by every sin in the lexicon of evil.

Khrushchev's problem is very different from that which faced either Lenin or Stalin. First of all, he deals with a literate people and no matter how rigid a censorship may be, the mind of man somehow will find truth if he can read and write. Secondly, he must discover a way to live with the Western world or he will be driven back upon Asia and will be forced by circumstances, to become subservient to China. Finally, his people have either seen or have heard rumors of plentiful consumers' goods. They want some. They want more.

Khrushchev wants peace which he calls competitive co-existence, but he does not know how to get it. To make a concession to the West—the slightest one—will inflame the fundamentalist Marxists. To refuse to make concessions means an intensification of the cold war. The United States has so far exceeded the Russian missile and rocket program that Russian superiority can no longer be used for propaganda purposes, where it was most effective for a two-year period. Khrushchev must convince all Communists, including the Chinese, to accept his program or he will be forced out of power.

Had he not utterly failed at the General Assembly of the United Nations, Khrushchev's problems would not be so troublesome. He does not understand the equality of power, of Chad having one vote and Soviet Russia having one vote.

Now Mao Tze-tung challenges Khrushchev to go to war—not the cold war, not competitive co-existence, but a fighting war with no holds barred. Mao can afford that. He can readily afford to lose 300,000,000 Chinese. In fact, according to his philosophy they should welcome the opportunity to be killed for their country. Mao then takes the line that Khrushchev is not a true Communist; that he has been corrupted by the soft life of the West; that he actually fears war and has therefore betrayed the Marxist-Leninist doctrine of struggle to the death between capitalism and socialism.

This then is what we face. In the Communist world there are no elections and no votes as we understand them. There is a dialectical method of thesis, antithesis, synthesis out of which comes the truth. Once the truth is established in men's minds, those who deviate from the truth are evil and must be destroyed.

As a people, we like action. We like to describe action. We are not given to theorizing. However, our opponents are given to what we call theorizing and whether we shall have war or peace depends in a large measure upon what the Communist leaders believe to be true. Their training is to set their theories in order before they act; they never take an action unless it serves their basic Marxist theories, modified by further study and decisions. The leaders among Communists are usually not the technicians but the party theoreticians and operatives.

It is a different technique of life and thought from ours and we had better understand it.

Against America

Persons In Our Government Conducting

Ideological Warfare

WASHINGTON, D. C. — On or about November 15th a team of private enterprise negotiators using the composite name of VALTO leave for the Ghana Republic in West Africa. They will try for an arrangement which ought to be supported by a cheering section from the United States and the Free World. Ironically, although the home team will almost certainly win out in the end, its success has been sabotaged in the past by people who are supposedly on our side. As hard as it is to believe, there are persons in government—to be nameless for the present—who conduct a running ideological warfare against free enterprise.

The story begins, for our purposes, in 1956 when a firm of British engineers, trading as Sir William Halcrow and Partners, published a three-volume study of a plan to dam the Volta River in Ghana. The plan would create a hydroelectric generating plant and a huge inland lake with many resulting benefits when Ghana became an independent republic. President Eisenhower's interest was attracted through a personal encounter with the Ghana Minister of Finance. The Office of Private Enterprise, an Eisenhower addition to the International Cooperation Administration, brought together five American aluminum-processing firms with the idea that they might become purchasers of the electrical power generated by the proposed Volta dam. These companies are Alcoa, Alcan, Reynolds, Olin Mathieson and Kaiser—later known as VALTO.

The project at first seemed too big, even for this sizable consortium. But the American-educated Prime Minister of Ghana, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, was encouraged to try a new approach. He proposed that the Henry J. Kaiser Company, acting for VALTO, translate the British Halcrow report into terms of American know-how. The Governments of Ghana and the USA split the cost of $110,000. In February, 1959, Kaiser published a study entitled, "A Reassessment Report on the Volta River Project for the Government of Ghana." The Kaiser engineers relocated the dam, increased estimates of its kilowatts production, reduced the time of construction from 8 years to 4 or 5 years, and came up with a total estimated savings of $35 million for construction.

Prime Minister Nkrumah was very pleased. A tentative agenda was agreed upon in December, 1959. Two months later, Nkrumah was ready to start negotiations with VALTO—but at this point unseen hands began to toss monkey wrenches into the machinery of arrangements. The World Bank stepped in to study the feasibility of the investment. The World Bank report appeared in July, 1960. It was a carping, cynical paper which had the effect of warning the Ghana Government against trusting American businessmen. Dr. Nkrumah and his associates were advised to drive a hard bargain on the power rates. They were told it might be wiser to invest their government's funds elsewhere. The whole Volta Project, with its enormous promise of industrialization, social uplift and inland waterway transportation was down-graded.

VALTO representatives understandably got a cool reception in Ghana after this. Negotiations lagged. A Communist propaganda blitz could hardly have done a better job of jeopardizing the project—but the validity of the idea was there. Dr. Nkrumah very much wanted the consortium to come in. The aluminum firms very much wanted a chance to open up new sources of raw materials and sales. Mutual interests were so strong that the difficulties were overcome.

Renewed negotiations this month are not expected to wrap up the deal—but in all probability they will be making progress toward eventual construction of the dam, the extraction of bauxite in large quantities, and the improvement of living conditions throughout West Africa.

Still, the question remains—and it is vital to the struggle of the 1960's. Why is Big Government in America so hostile to Big Business? This country has won two World Wars in this century by mobilizing our capitalistic industries which have readily out-produced all rivals and allies. The same thing could be done in the Cold War. But instead of encouragement and cooperation, American business often runs into suspicion among the professional diplomats and other bureaucrats.

Worse, the suspicion of American business sometimes seems to be spread in foreign countries by our own diplomatic representatives. The eight years of the Eisenhower Administration saw many moves to alter this familiar bust-business attitude both in Federal and on Capitol Hill. It was a good beginning—what we need is a continuing effort.

JOHN A. CLELAND

Offers For Ike

Should Be Relatively Comfortable And Financially Solid

In a little more than two months Dwight D. Eisenhower will walk out of the White House for the last time as president of the United States.

Unlike some of his 25 predecessors who held the office of chief executive Mr. Eisenhower's days as an ex-president should be relatively comfortable and free from financial care.

Besides reports of fabulous job offers from private industry, the outgoing president will receive (if he chooses to accept it) a $25,000-a-year pension, plus an expense allowance and free mailing privileges.

Such was not always the case when a man left the highest office in the land. Congress only recently provided financial assistance for ex-presidents and the widows of deceased presidents. In fact, the two living ex-presidents—Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover—were the first to be eligible for the pensions.

What did other presidents do after they left office? Some went back to their estates or plantations, others retired from public life altogether while two returned to Congress. Others traveled extensively, wrote their memoirs and became active as public speakers. Several returned to former law practices. One became a professor of law.

Following is a brief description of what various ex-presidents did from the time they left office until their deaths:

Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson and Hayes became actively engaged in farm or plantation operations. Washington was also active as commander-in-chief of all the armies, an appointment he received from President John Adams in 1798.

Jefferson, who lived more than 17 years after leaving office, proved to be a poor financial manager, having accrued debts totaling $20,000 while still president. Crop failures added to his financial woes and only through the help of friends plus sales of land at his Monticello estate was he sustained in his retirement.

John Adams, oldest ex-president at his death (90) lived more than 25 years after leaving office. He also lost heavily on his investments and was forced to serve as city assessor and surveyor of highways in Quincy, Massachusetts.

James Madison was another who lost heavily on farm operations and died in debt. John Quincy Adams became a representative in Congress and Andrew Johnson returned to the U. S. Senate after their terms in the White House.

Wilson was confronted with heavy medical bills during almost three years of ill health.

Pierce and Buchanan retired from public life after office and avoided public appearances. Fillmore became chancellor of the University of Buffalo, Hayes a trustee of Ohio State and Cleveland, a trustee and lecturer at Princeton.

Benjamin Harrison became a professor in international law at Leland Stanford University in addition to returning to a lucrative law practice. Arthur also returned to practicing law.

Van Buren, Polk, Grant and Theodore Roosevelt traveled extensively after their terms as president. Grant in order to save his financial ills wrote his memoirs which became one of the best sellers of all time and is still high on the all-time list. Royalties amounted to an estimated $500,000 (a fortune in those days) but Grant died before he saw his book in print.

Truman and Hoover, in addition to writing, have been active as public speakers. Hoover headed various government commissions in addition to his philanthropic enterprises.

Taft was the only ex-president to serve both as head of the executive and judicial branches of the government. After an unsuccessful attempt for re-election in 1912 he became a professor of law at Yale University. President Harding appointed him chief justice of the Supreme Court on June 30, 1921.

Torch Is Lighted To Honor Heroes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A blazing torch, lighted in Antwerp, Belgium, was enshrined Friday at the Tomb of the Unknowns at Arlington National Cemetery, where it will burn as an eternal flame in memory of this nation's war dead.

Enshrining of the torch was the highlight of an impressive Veterans Day Ceremony at the cemetery, the final resting place of 107,000 American servicemen killed in nine wars.

The more than 2,000 persons on hand looked on solemnly as a wreath of carnations also was laid on the tomb on behalf of President Eisenhower.

Then, at exactly 11 a.m., the hour when the Armistice was signed 42 years ago ending World War I, a moment of silence was observed—an observance duplicated in cities and towns throughout the nation in memory of America's fallen warriors.

Veterans Administrator Sumner G. Whittier represented the President at the Arlington ceremony. The torch, which will burn continuously, was lighted from a flame that blazes night and day in Antwerp in honor of fallen warriors. It was presented during the ceremony by Col. Franz Piquin, military attaché at the Belgian Embassy.

Later, a brief ceremony was held at the grave of General of the Armies John J. Pershing, who commanded the American Expeditionary Forces in France during World War I. Representatives of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A., the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars participated in the ceremony, during which a wreath was laid on the grave of the famed "Blackjack."

Impressive Veterans Day (formerly known as Armistice Day) parades were held in, among other cities, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh.

Quick Thinking Of Youngster Saves Brother

The calm thinking of a 10-year-old brother saved Janice Hildabride from an almost certain fiery death yesterday morning.

Janice, six, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hildabride, and brother, at the Majestic Hotel, was warming herself in front of a heater when the robe caught fire.

She and her brother Robert were alone in the room, when the back of her robe ignited from the heater. Robert jerked it off her and quickly stamped out the flames, then went downstairs to get his mother who worked at the hotel desk.

"The whole back of the robe is burned out," Mrs. Hildabride said. "But Janice wasn't burned at all."

Others at the hotel pointed out that if "Robert" had hesitated even a minute, Janice would probably have been fatally burned, and the flames could have spread throughout the hotel.

Both children are students at Barkdull Faulk school.

Welfare Law Hearings Set In Washington

Hearings on Louisiana's new laws removing persons from the welfare rolls because of unsuitable homes will be conducted in Washington Monday, and will be attended by Rep. Otto E. Passman.

The Health, Education and Welfare Agency will hold the hearings. The agency contributes federal funds to the state welfare program.

Passman said yesterday that he had conducted a probe into the program and learned that in the past 14 years, the government's portion to the Louisiana program had risen from $10 million to over $103 million.

"As a member of the House Appropriations Committee familiar with the ever-increasing demands for funds in excess of necessary needs, I cannot sit idly by and not come to the aid of my state in helping to point out that the legislature passed laws to control the raids on the treasury for dependent children who, in many instances, came into the world by what appears to be a trend toward making this a business," the congressman declared.

Passman said he and Mrs. Mary Evelyn Parker, welfare department director, would be in Washington with several other people from the state, to represent Gov. Jimmie Davis.

He added, "I am a humanitarian and will always work to obtain federal matching funds for our needy, aged citizens, our sick and disabled and for our dependent children, regardless of what way they were brought into the world."

Nixon To Take Rest In Florida

MIAMI (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon stepped into Florida sunshine with a bright smile Friday and said he would take a complete rest from politics.

He declined to discuss his defeat in the national election with newsmen who met him at the Miami Airport on his arrival from Washington. About 200 Republican supporters also were on hand to greet him.

But he leaned over and told William D. Pawley, Miami transit firm president and head of the Nixon-Lodge campaign here, that "you've done a magnificent job down here."

Florida gave its 10 electoral votes to Nixon by a 37,000-vote majority.

Blacktop Slated For K Street

Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez said yesterday one block of K Street in a new residential area would be blacktopped when the street packs.

He explained that a newly installed sewer line left the street in bad shape.

"The street at the present time is in terrible shape," Rodriguez said. "But we can't do anything until it packs. Any improvement on it now would be a waste."

He also explained that the street, which was merely a dedication, was opened recently for a new residential area.

Kennedy Won't Get Mississippi Elector Votes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett said Friday Mississippi's eight presidential electors agreed to withhold their votes from the two major candidates.

"This means that we shall not vote for either candidate of the major parties with their present platforms," Barnett said in a statement after a meeting with the electors.

"We will vote for an outstanding American who is faithful and true to the traditions and principles of the Founding Fathers and the way of life which they entrusted to us," he said.

Barnett did not specify the name of the man who will get the state's electoral votes.

Barnett appealed to electors of other Southern states "to re-appraise their positions with the full knowledge that they have it within their power to join with us and save their people from imminent social and economic chaos."

Blacktop Slated For K Street

Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez said yesterday one block of K Street in a new residential area would be blacktopped when the street packs.

He explained that a newly installed sewer line left the street in bad shape.

"The street at the present time is in terrible shape," Rodriguez said. "But we can't do anything until it packs. Any improvement on it now would be a waste."

He also explained that the street, which was merely a dedication, was opened recently for a new residential area.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

It's a good thing Audrey Hepburn isn't the nervous type wife. Mel Ferrer has just signed to make a picture titled "Dance of Montmartre," and the actress playing the dame is none other than Anita Ekberg. Tommy Leonetti, enjoying his biggest show business click at the International, had his success clouded by tragedy. His brother, Robert, died of a heart attack. Warners has started the bidding for the screen rights to "Tenderloin." They'll pay $250,000. Insiders say Matty Fox is getting ready for a surprise move with his long-quiet venture, Skiatron. Sandee Preston, the former Broadway show girl, is recovering at Bellevue Hospital after a nervous collapse. Sophisticated diners at Malmesbury stopped staring at Joe DiMaggio to rivet their attention on a two-hour dinner huddle between multi-millionaire Joseph Kennedy and Morton Downey.

The Kingston Trio tried to buy San Francisco's Hungry i for $250,000, but the night club owner raised the price to $300,000 and the deal fell through. A confidential report which will be presented to the Mayor's office within a week shows that thousands of members of the police department plan to put in for their retirement pensions by the end of the year unless Commissioner Kennedy and the cops can kiss and make up. Peter Warren, who quit dancing in Broadway choruses when he married Atlanta heiress Peggy Symley and went to work in her dad's factory, will return to the world of tinseltown now that the idyll has ended with an Alabama divorce. Jody McCrea is a hot contender for one of the leads in Pat Boone's flicker, "All Hands On Deck." The fellow at Basin Street East with Patricia Wilson, who plays the late New York mayor's second wife in "Fiorello!" was her new crush, Ken Diehl, a Webb and Knapp executive.

Trade whispers indicate Carl Reiner and Mel Brooks will team for a TV show which they will produce together. They were co-leagues when Mel wrote and Carl appeared on the Sid Caesar shows. The lovely girl making the rounds with Franchot Tone is Elizabeth Ellsworth Jones, a British starlet. It ought to be pretty funny in Newark, N.J. Dec. 12 when singer Connie Francis is honored by a parade in "her home town." Newark, her home town? On records, she sounds like a native of Tennessee. The young man named John Lewis getting the celebrity treatment at the Stork Club the other night was Loretta Young's son. His date was Sandra Steinthal. Bill Rosen, the owner of Gatsby's, will be a bachelor again soon. His bride of six months, model Barbara Newmark, is headed for Mexico to make the separation permanent and legal. Lucien Broudo, the lovely Latin Quarter showgirl from France, is being shown New York by Bill Hyer, an off-Broadway actor and writer.

Members of the international set think they know all about the allegations of Mrs. Huntington Hartford, which the judge refused to enter into the divorce records now that the pretty actress is in the process of seeking to rid herself of the A & P heir and wind up with a fortune in the bargain. Society friends of Hunt think wife Marjorie must have told a tale involving the days before he sold the Hartford model agency.

Pamela Charles won't renew her contract at the Liza Doolittle of "My Fair Lady"; she'll return to London in February. The role in the hit musical did a lot for Julie Andrews, who created it, but it turned out to be just another job for all the other ladies who followed her. Jean Simmons and Richard Brooks invested in a palatial California home a few days before they said "I do." It's not exactly news, but just as an entertainment reminder, note this: Dorothy Loudon, the comedienne at the Blue Angel, is hilarious, and not to be missed.

The New York Racing Assn. is in a swivel over the Internal Revenue Dept.'s ruling that in the future all winners of more than $600 on a daily double will have to be identified. The association feels the regulation will hurt racing. (Tough beans, kids; it hurts some of us to pay the income tax on $600 we earn by working, not sitting around watching horses run.) Jazz fans are mourning the sudden death of alto saxist Porter Kilbert at the age of 30. He succumbed to a heart attack in Chicago. His beautiful sound was heard with such bands as Duke Ellington's, Roy Eldridge's and Noble Sissle's.

Marilyn Monroe To Seek Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe, Hollywood's blonde sex symbol, has called it quits with her third husband, Pulitzer Prize playwright Arthur Miller. Her spokesman said Friday she plans to file for divorce.

"They are two exciting people," her agent said of Marilyn and Montand. "Apparently, this was enough to set some tongues wagging."

Montand and his wife, Academy award winner Simone Signoret, were in the French countryside on a holiday when news of Marilyn's divorce plans reached Paris. A secretary of the actor said:

"I know they will be sorry to hear about this, since they knew both Marilyn and Mr. Miller together in Hollywood."

Friends here insisted no third person is involved in the split between Miss Monroe and Miller. A Police claimed the youths squeezed into a hangar through the window, took the plane apart, passed the parts out the window, and reassembled it outside. Then they sold it.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

MEDICAL BROWSING

Tickle tests, conducted at Chicago's Michael Reese hospital, showed that women are as ticklish as men or vice versa. Some people are ultra-ticklish because they have not adapted to the stimulus or tend to be emotional. Others have no tickle reaction; they feel the sensation but have learned to control their reactions.

Babies are not ticklish at all. They respond to skin sensation only around the mouth and the first clear-cut tickle response shows up at 1 1/2 years of age. According to Dr. Joseph G. Kepecs, Dr. Milton Robin, and Mrs. Claire Munro, it is a new experience and explains why youngsters go into gales of laughter.

Why does ticklishness exist? According to the Michael Reese team, it may have begun as a mechanism for getting rid of distracting or annoying objects, comparable to the way a horse flicks off a fly with his tail.

The relationship between tobacco and cancer got a slight boost when the following case history was reported in the New England Journal of Medicine. A 58-year-old bachelor with a large cancer of the ear consulted the surgery department of the University of Minnesota medical school.

This man had been placing snuff in the left ear daily to weekly since the age of 16. This was a local Indian custom. Several hours later he would attempt to wipe it away but was none too successful, in view of the appearance of the ear canal.

This case will not surprise physicians because they know that skin cancers have been produced by rubbing or painting tobacco tars on rabbits and mice. In addition, cancer and pre-cancerous lesions in the mouth have been traced to chewing tobacco or using snuff.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

COLD BABY FOOD

Mrs. P. H. writes: I have been criticized for feeding our 1-year-old child the junior baby foods cold from the jars. Is it necessary to heat these foods?

REPLY

No, but some of the foods taste better when warmed, are more likely to be sterile, and are more easily digested.

FINGER INFECTION

L. C. B. writes: How can felon be prevented?

REPLY

I assume you refer to a medical felon and not a lawbreaker. This type of infection is discouraged by keeping the hands clean, especially the fingers. Don't injure the cuticle or the skin surrounding the nails, and dry the hands thoroughly after they have been in water.

BRONCHI AND AIR SACS

E. M. S. writes: How do bronchitis and emphysema differ?

REPLY

Bronchitis is inflammation of the bronchi, characterized by coughing. Emphysema is a chronic lung disorder in which the air sacs have lost their elasticity. Because of overstretching, they no longer function properly. Shortness of breath results.

GOUT AND BEER

L. C. writes: Is beer bad for gout?

REPLY

Not when used in moderation. An attack of gout may follow overindulgence in alcohol — be it beer or whisky.

Daily Meditation

There is no hope; but we will walk after our own devices. — Jeremiah 18:12.

Does this verse not clearly express the attitude of the communists today? They have no hope in the Lord and no reverence for His teachings and have therefore elected to rule God out and go their own way and about their own devices, as did the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the time of Jeremiah. They overlook the fact that mere men cannot rule God out of their lives and be free of His domination and influence. And we should remember that God is always on the side of the righteous.

Almighty God, lead us to acknowledge and accept Thy omnipotence in all the things of this Thy world. In Christ's holy name we ask Amen.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

FROM THIRD MATE

Marilyn Monroe To Seek Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe, Hollywood's blonde sex symbol, has called it quits with her third husband, Pulitzer Prize playwright Arthur Miller. Her spokesman said Friday she plans to file for divorce.

Mrs. Monard reportedly was ready to give up on the marriage last July, but decided to make one more try at salvaging it. However, Miller moved out on her Monday, in what was described as an amicable solution of a career conflict.

Runners have been rife for some time that the lovely screen star and her taciturn husband were on the verge of a break-up. Only last month, Miss Monroe had occasion to deny a romantic link with

POLITE RECEPTION

'Moon Is Blue' Draws Plaudits

By JOHN CALE
Staff Writer

Monroe playgoers gave a polite reception to the Variety Players production of F. Hugh Herbert's comedy, "The Moon Is Blue," last night at Neville auditorium.

Such politeness is to be encouraged. The play was sponsored by the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club which is well known for its many charitable activities. In addition, as the program notes pointed out:

"Who is teaching the people to get along with one another? What is being done in this mechanical

Troops Moving On Costa Rica Invader Force

SAN JOSE, C. R. (UPI) —Costa Rican forces closed in Friday on armed Nicaraguan rebels in the mountains near La Cruz, about two miles from the inter American highway.

Press reports said the rebels apparently were seeking to establish a mountain hideout from which they could stage hit - run attacks across the border into Nicaragua.

The estimated 40 armed men, clad in Cuban army fatigue uniforms, were led by a man called "the Cuban." The leaders were identified as Lionel Cabezas, Alvaro Borge, Mario Aviles and, possibly, Carlos Dupre de Estrada.

Costa Rica asked Supreme Court authorization to deport a half-dozen Nicaraguan exiles here accused of complicity in the armed effort to overthrow the Nicaraguan government.

The include Dr. Enrique Lacayo Farfan, leader of the United Nicaraguan opposition, as well as a former Nicaraguan general, Carlos Pasos. They appealed against the government deportation order.

The exile leaders were rounded up after a Wednesday frontier clash between Costa Rican civil guardsmen and the rebels. The leaders are held incommunicado here pending a court ruling on their status.

Bowles Favors 2-China Policy

LONDON (AP)—Chester Bowles foreign policy adviser to President-elect John F. Kennedy, Friday night advocated a "two-China policy" allowing for an independent Formosa and an independent Communist China.

"But I don't think the Peiping government is ready for it now," Bowles said in an interview filmed in the United States for British television. "I think it will be ready for it soon."

Bowles, often mentioned as a possibility for Secretary of State, said he thought the China problem had been handled "rather stupidly" up to now.

He said he regarded China as possibly more dangerous to Western interests than Russia.

"She lacks oil," he said. "These inherent lacks built into her whole natural resource structure could conceivably exert pressure for expansion to the south. This would plunge us all into trouble."

"I think we are beginning to understand that in the long run we can only solve this situation in China through some kind of 'two-China' policy—that is an independent Formosa and an independent Communist China."

School Aid Bill Passage Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell predicted Friday that the House Education and Labor Committee will approve a minimum wage bill and a school aid measure in the first 30 days of the new Congress.

The New York Democrat is in line to succeed Rep. Graham A. Barden, D-N.C., as chairman of the committee under the congressional seniority system. Barden did not seek re-election.

Powell said he has discussed the school aid and minimum wage issues with President-elect John F. Kennedy and that he expected committee approval of them during the first 30 days of the 87th Congress.

Both bills were on Kennedy's list of priority legislation during the post-convention session of Congress but neither got anywhere. His school plan would let the states decide whether to spend federal aid funds for teachers' salaries as well as construction. The Eisenhower administration opposed this.

On the wage front, Kennedy wanted to raise the federally enforced floor from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The administration favored $1.15.

Powell also told a news conference that he was setting up immediately six special study groups to report back to him with legislative proposals within the next 30 days.

The study groups and their chairmen are:

—Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y., for recommendations for a standing subcommittee on "irregularities in labor and management."

Powell said he planned to take personal charge of the group, which has been only temporary in the past.

—Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., on measures to combat juvenile delinquency and school drop-outs.

—Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., to study proposals for "a massive scholarship program" for Asians, Africans and Latin Americans, plus legislation to back up Kennedy's proposed peace corps for underdeveloped nations.

—Rep. Elmer J. Holland, D-Pa., to make a detailed analysis of the unemployment problem and the impact of automation.

—Rep. Carl Elliott, D-Ala., on a "crash program" to provide more U.S. scientists.

—Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., on proposals to increase cultural activities at home and abroad.

Powell discounted rumors that the committee would be split into two separate committees—one on education and one on labor.

He said the group's second and third ranking Democrats — Rep. Cleveland A. Bailey, W. Va., and Carl D. Perkins, Ky. — will have the choice of heading either the education or labor subcommittees.

Accardo Found Guilty By Jury Of Tax Evasion

CHICAGO (UPI) — Tony Accardo, reputed kingpin of the crime empire founded by Al Capone, met Capone's fate Friday. He was found guilty of income tax evasion.

A federal court jury of six men and six women declared "Tough Tony" guilty of a penny-ante tax dodge—writing off the expenses of his red Mercedes-Benz sports car as business deductions on his income tax returns. He said he used the car to peddle beer.

The gang tsar saved only $3,995 in taxes over a three-year period. The money involved is small change to the highly involved Accardo, but his failure to pay it could send him to jail for up to nine years and cost him up to $15,000 in fines.

Federal Judge Julius J. Hoffman refused a government motion that Accardo be restricted to the Chicago area. But he ordered him to show up in court Nov. 18, when Hoffman will hear arguments on the immediate defense motions for declaration of a new trial.

"We'll consider punishment at that time," Hoffman said.

Accardo was found guilty in the same dinghy courthouse where, 29 years ago, Al Capone's crime kingdom came tumbling down.

THREE INJURED

Veterans Day in the Twin Cities passed with jarring crashes Friday, as 14 auto accidents were recorded, resulting in the injury of three persons and estimated property damage easily passing the $2,000 mark.

A two-car collision at the intersection of Glenmar and North Third in Monroe Friday afternoon accounted for the three injuries.

U.S. Proposes Action Against Dictatorships

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—The State Department's top official for Latin America Friday urged "collective action" by American hemisphere states against dictatorships which threaten the peace.

In an obvious reference to Cuba and the Dominican Republic without mentioning them by name, Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said there is now "more reason - than ever" to support "collective action in the direction of making the Western hemisphere ideal of democracy a greater reality."

Mann, addressing an audience at Baylor University, mentioned no specific kind of collective action.

The State Department is known to have been weighing the possibility of asking for a new American hemisphere foreign ministers' meeting to consider economic and diplomatic sanctions against Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

Last August in Costa Rica, a meeting of foreign ministers of the Organization of American States (OAS) voted to condemn Soviet intervention in Cuba but took no steps for economic or other sanctions.

Lunch Counter Service Denied Sit-In Group

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Rev. James Lawson, ministerial student who was dismissed from Vanderbilt University last spring for his part in sit-in demonstrations here, was denied service Friday at a chain lunch counter.

After more than four hours inside one of The Krystal lunch rooms, Lawson, two other Negro men and two Negro women walked out.

The counter was closed and the door was locked after the Negroes entered. Lawson and his associates declined to discuss the affair with newsmen except to say they just decided to leave.

Two other lunch rooms operated by the chain were closed after Negro customers entered. They were not served and no disturbances were reported.

Four Negro college students were sprayed with cleanser, water and insect killer Thursday when they sat down at one of the company counters. They bought sandwiches while standing up and then sat down to eat them. The group left at the request of an assistant fire chief and no arrests were made.

Lawson was dismissed from Vanderbilt, school authorities said, for his part in helping organize the sit-ins. He later accepted an invitation from Boston University to enroll in its theological school and received his degree at the end of the summer session.

How To Keep Well

MEDICAL BROWNING

Tickle tests, conducted at Chicago's Michael Reese hospital, showed that women are as ticklish as men or vice versa. Some people are ultra-ticklish because they have not adapted to the stimulus or tend to be emotional. Others have no tickle reaction; they feel the sensation but have learned to control their reactions.

Babies are not ticklish at all. They respond to skin sensation only around the mouth and the first clear-cut tickle response shows up at 1 1/2 years of age. According to Dr. Joseph G. Kepess, Dr. Milton Robin, and Mrs. Claire Munro, it is a new experience and explains why youngsters go into gales of laughter.

Why does ticklishness exist? According to the Michael Reese team, it may have begun as a mechanism for getting rid of distracting or annoying objects, comparable to the way a horse flicks off a fly with his tail.

The relationship between tobacco and cancer got a slight boost when the following case history was reported in the New England Journal of Medicine. A 58-year-old bachelor with a large cancer of the ear consulted the surgery department of the University of Minnesota medical school.

This man had been placing snuff in the left ear daily to weekly since the age of 16. This was a local Indian custom. Several hours later he would attempt to wipe it away but was none too successful, in view of the appearance of the ear canal.

This case will not surprise physicians because they know that skin cancers have been produced by rubbing or painting tobacco tars on rabbits and mice. In addition, cancer and pre-cancerous lesions in the mouth have been traced to chewing tobacco or using snuff.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

COLD BABY FOOD

Mrs. P. H. writes: I have been criticized for feeding our 1-year-old child the junior baby foods cold from the jars. Is it necessary to heat these foods?

REPLY
No, but some of the foods taste better when warmed, are more likely to be sterile, and are more easily digested.

FINGER INFECTION

L. C. B. writes: How can felon be prevented?

REPLY
I assume you refer to a medical felon and not a lawbreaker. This type of infection is discouraged by keeping the hands clean, especially the fingers. Don't injure the cuticle or the skin surrounding the nails, and dry the hands thoroughly after they have been in water.

BRONCHI AND AIR SACS

E. M. S. writes: How do bronchitis and emphysema differ?

REPLY
Bronchitis is inflammation of the bronchi, characterized by coughing. Emphysema is a chronic lung disorder in which the air sacs have lost their elasticity. Because of overstretching, they no longer function properly. Shortness of breath results.

GOUT AND BEER

L. C. writes: Is beer bad for gout?

REPLY
Not when used in moderation. An attack of gout may follow overindulgence in alcohol -- be it beer or whisky.

Daily Meditation

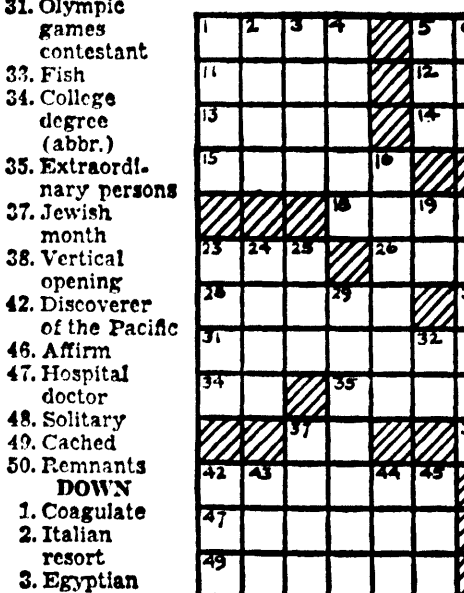

There is no hope; but we will walk after our own devices. -- Jeremiah 18:12.

Does this verse not clearly express the attitude of the communists today? They have no hope in the Lord and no reverence for His teachings and have therefore elected to rule God out and go their own way and about their own devices, as did the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the time of Jeremiah. They overlook the fact that mere men cannot rule God out of their lives and be free of His domination and influence. And we should remember that God is always on the side of the righteous.

Almighty God, lead us to acknowledge and accept Thy omnipotence in all the things of this Thy world. In Christ's holy name we ask Amen.

Bossier Cops 12-7 Nod Over Ouachita Gridders

BOSSIER CITY, La. — For 12 minutes Friday night, the ghost of Bossier's 1969 district championship football team hovered the Memorial Stadium icebox and send chills down the backs of the Ouachita Lions.

As it turned out, those 12 minutes were decisive enough to preserve a Bearkat hex on the Monroe team, for when the floundering Bossier had risen from rubble of a disastrous 1960 season and had thumped the favored Lions, 12-7.

Lengthy first quarter dashes by sophomore fullback Charles Glover and senior halfback C. L.

Madden propelled the Bossiers to a 12-0 lead and the Lions spent the rest of the evening in increasing moods of retaliation. But a late Ouachita passing spree was spoiled — and the Lions are still looking for their second district victory.

The triumph was the fourth in 10 games for Bossier, which was working on a five-game losing streak. Ouachita suffered its fourth straight reversal after five straight shutout victories. The win also moved Bossier ahead zone but the red flag stopped the drive. A late Lion passing threat failed and Bossier was on the Ouachita 15 when time expired.

Madden gained 114 yards in 11 carries for Bossier. Bubba Via got 70 yards in 17 carries to lead Ouachita and Smith had 47 in 12 and Herbert Perry 37 in 5.

Ellen, Johnny Butler and Johnny Roach were defensive stars for Ouachita.

Marion Teams, Calhoun Boys Win Meet Tilts

DOWNSVILLE, La. (Special) — Calhoun boys and the two Marion clubs advanced in the Downsville Tournament here last night with victories.

Wanda Brasher of Marion and Joyce Antley of Downsville each scored 32 points as Marion girls won a 60-64 decision. Marion boys beat Quitman by a 51-43 count with Dennis Townes getting 19 for the winner and Arnold Ramsey 23 for the losers.

Calhoun boys took a 57-52 nod over Downsville despite 30 points by the losers' James Guice. James Weems got 19 points for Calhoun.

FAIR PARK'S big offensive weapon, halfback Steve Cryer picks up yardage against West Monroe in last night's battle at Rebel Stadium. Closing in for the tackle are Cline Averett (74), Richard Cook (81) and an unidentified Rebel. West Monroe gained a 33-13 district win.

SPEED AND POWER

West Monroe Rebels Gain 38-13 Win Over Fair Park

West Monroe, slightly favored over Fair Park, used a good combination of speed and power, and a fast-rushing defense to flatten the Indians 38-13 for a 1-AAA district win at Rebel Stadium last night.

The Rebels held off the Shreveporters with some fine offensive play by almost every back on the bench and clamped an airtight pass defense on the Indians' quarterback Jack Hatcher.

Halfback Buck Fox turned in his usual powerful running game, picking up two touchdowns, with Don Harrel, John Covington.

Charles Van Zile and a Jim Van Zile to Freddy Hooter pass accounting for the other markers.

Both teams had trouble holding on to the ball, losing five fumbles each, but the Rebels ball control game spelled the difference.

After an exchange of fumbles following the opening kickoff, quarterback Jim Van Zile tightened up the defense at the Indian 42, then lofted a high pass to end Freddy Hooter who caught up with the ball at the 25 yard line, behind the defenders, and went over for the first score of the night with 7:53 minutes left in the opening period. Covington's kick was for the extra point was wide.

The Rebels pushed over another quick score after Fair Park's Charles Maranto fumbled trying to receive the kickoff and Covington fell on the ball at the Indian 25 - yard line. Fox and Harrel alternated moving the ball to the 3 yard line where Fox smashed over right guard for the touchdown. Van Zile fumbled the ball on the PAT attempt and the score was 12-0.

Fair Park couldn't move the ball after the next kickoff and punted to the Rebel 34 yard line. On first down Don Harrel broke into the clear, slowed down to dodge a defender and was caught from behind by the only man left in the play at the Tribe 30. Jim Van Zile hit Buck Fox with a 10 yard pass and on the next play Fox broke through the Indian line, faked the secondary men and went 27 yards for a touchdown.

Reb linemen Jimmy Randall, Richard Drew and Tommy Averett put the pressure on the Indian running game, forcing Hatcher to take to the air. On a fourth down pass play by Fair Park, Buck Fox was in the right spot, picked off the aerial and dashed 79 yards on a fine defensive play carrying to the Tribe six. Two plays later Don Harrel ended the West Monroe scoring with a one yard line buck and the extra point attempt by Covington failed.

Fair Park dominated much of the final quarter and picked up its last touchdown with 8:58 minutes left in the game. Halfback Jerry Lindsay, who might have been the weapon needed by the

TROJANS DROP BULLDOGS

FERRIDAY (Special) — Tallulah was forced to come from behind twice here Friday night, but the Trojans overcame Ferriday's scrappy Bulldogs for a 26-13 victory in 2-A competition.

POLITE RECEPTION

'Moon Is Blue' Draws Plaudits

By JOHN CALE
Staff Writer

Monroe playgoers gave a polite reception to the Variety Players production of F. Hugh Herbert's comedy, "The Moon Is Blue," last night at Neville auditorium.

Such politeness is to be encouraged. The play was sponsored by the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club which is well known for its many charitable activities. In addition, as the program notes pointed out:

Troops Moving
On Costa Rica
Invader Force

SAN JOSE, C. R. (UPI) — Costa Rican forces closed in Friday on armed Nicaraguan rebels in the mountains near La Cruz, about two miles from the inter-American highway.

Press reports said the rebels apparently were seeking to establish a mountain hideout from which they could stage hit-and-run attacks across the border into Nicaragua.

The estimated 40 armed men, clad in Cuban army fatigues, uniforms, were led by a man called "the Cuban." The leaders were identified as Lionel Cabreza, Alvaro Borja, Mario Ayales and, possibly, Carlos Dupre de Estrada.

Costa Rica asked Supreme Court authorization to deport a half-dozen Nicaraguan exiles here accused of complicity in the armed effort to overthrow the Nicaraguan government.

The include Dr. Enrique La-cayo Farfan, leader of the United Nicaraguan opposition, as well as a former Nicaraguan general, Carlos Pasos. They appealed against the government deportation order.

The exile leaders were rounded up after a Wednesday frontier clash between Costa Rican civil guardsmen and the rebels. The leaders are held incommunicado here pending a court ruling on their status.

Bowles Favors
2-China Policy

LONDON (AP) — Chester Bowles, foreign policy adviser to President-elect John F. Kennedy, Friday night advocated a "two-China" policy, allowing for an independent Formosa and an independent Communist China.

"But I don't think the Peiping government is ready for it now," Bowles said in an interview filmed in the United States for British television. "I think it will be ready for it soon."

Bowles, often mentioned as a possibility for Secretary of State, said he thought the China problem had been handled "rather stupidly" up to now.

He said he regarded China as possibly more dangerous to Western interests than Russia.

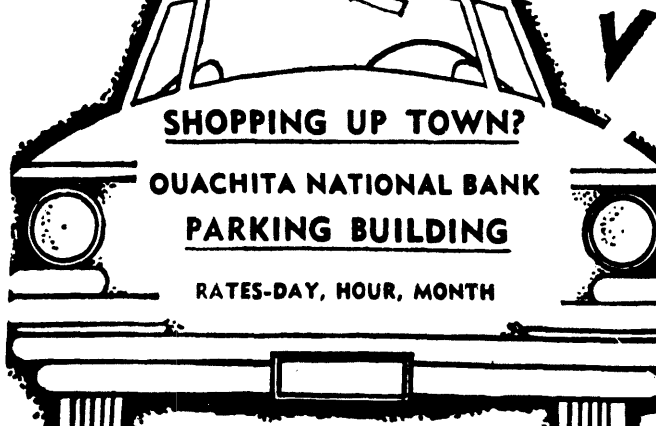

"She lacks oil," he said. "These inherent lacks built into her whole natural resource structure could conceivably exert pressure for expansion to the south. This would plunge us all into trouble."

"I think we are beginning to understand that in the long run we can only solve this situation in China through some kind of 'two-China' policy—that is an independent Formosa and an independent China."

age to help humanity understand life's everyday problems? How can a well-rounded human being come into existence in an atmosphere of tests and test tubes, charts, graphs, equations and nuclear reactors?"

Certainly the theatre is doing its part in this direction. It might also be added that with the growth of local theatre throughout the country, audiences are demanding far more of traveling professional companies than was the case a decade ago.

Such demands include a prompt opening of the curtain through last night's lag brought out a bit of unheated vaudeville in the center aisle. Apparently "mad dogs and Englishmen" want their shows to begin on time.

The play itself was a refreshing piece of comedy built around four characters: a policeman's daughter, played by Marcy Harrington; a young architect, Rick Harrington; his girl friend's father, Henry Wideman and the policeman, Warren Bazzell.

The young couple never seemed to build the characters outlined in their parts and the policeman had only to walk onstage in a trenchcoat and deliver a black eye to the male lead. This left Henry Wideman the job of holding up the acting for the evening and his was a completely convincing part.

One comment he made to the girls: "You have a genius for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time; you ought to be in the State Department." ... got the best audience response of the evening.

By way of constructive criticism, it may be added the part of the young girl did call for all the sparkle of a glass of champagne. But in this critic's opinion, Miss Harrington poured out her lines much too fast.

Like a string quartet, "The Moon Is Blue," demands four top performers. Last night, the cast left it up to the third man from the end who wasn't even carrying the melody.

Accardo Found Guilty By Jury
Of Tax Evasion

CHICAGO (UPI) — Tony Accardo, reputed kingpin of the crime empire founded by Al Capone, met Capone's fate Friday. He was found guilty of income tax evasion.

A federal court jury of six men and six women declared "Tough Tony" guilty of a penny-ante tax dodge—writing off the expenses of his red Mercedes-Benz sports car as business deductions on his income tax returns. He said he used the car to peddle beer.

The gang tsar saved only $3,995 in taxes over a three-year period. The money involved is small change to the high-living Accardo, but his failure to pay it could send him to jail for up to nine years and cost him up to $15,000 in fines.

Federal Judge Julius J. Hoffman refused a government motion that Accardo be restricted to the Chicago area. But he ordered him to show up in court Nov. 18, when Hoffman will hear arguments on the immediate defense motions for declaration of a new trial.

"We'll consider punishment at that time," Hoffman said.

Accardo was found guilty in the same dinky courthouse where, 29 years ago, Al Capone's crime kingdom came tumbling down.

School Aid
Bill Passage
Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell predicted Friday that the House Education and Labor Committee will approve a minimum wage bill and a school aid measure in the first 30 days of the new Congress.

The New York Democrat is in line to succeed Rep. Graham A. Barden, D-N.C., as chairman of the committee under the congressional seniority system. Barden did not seek re-election.

Powell said he has discussed the school aid and minimum wage issues with President-elect John F. Kennedy and that he expected committee approval of them during the first 30 days of the 87th Congress.

Both bills were on Kennedy's list of priority legislation during the post-convention session of Congress but neither got anywhere. His school plan would let the states decide whether to spend federal aid funds for teachers' salaries as well as construction. The Eisenhower administration opposed this.

On the wage front, Kennedy wanted to raise the federally enforced floor from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The administration favored $1.15.

Powell also told a news conference that he was setting up immediately six special study groups to report back to him with legislative proposals within the next 30 days.

The study groups and their chairmen are: —Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y., for recommendations for a standing subcommittee on "irregularities in labor and management." Powell said he planned to take personal charge of the group, which has been only temporary in the past.

—Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., on measures to combat juvenile delinquency and school drop-outs.

—Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., to study proposals for "a massive scholarship program" for Asians, Africans and Latin Americans, plus legislation to back up Kennedy's proposed peace corps for underdeveloped nations.

—Rep. Elmer J. Holland, D-Pa., to make a detailed analysis of the unemployment problem and the impact of automation.

—Rep. Carl Elliott, D-Ma., on a "crash program" to provide more U.S. scientists.

—Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., on proposals to increase cultural activities at home and abroad.

Powell discounted rumors that the committee would be split into two separate committees—one on education and one on labor.

He said the group's second and third ranking Democrats — Rep. Cleveland A. Bailey, W. Va., and Carl D. Perkins, Ky. — will have the choice of heading either the education or labor subcommittees.

They said they expect the Democratic leader to leave the hospital Saturday or Sunday.

U.S. Proposes Action Against Dictatorships

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — The State Department's top official for Latin America Friday urged "collective action" by American hemisphere states against dictatorships which threaten the peace.

In an obvious reference to Cuba and the Dominican Republic without mentioning them by name, Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said there is now "more reason than ever" to support "collective action in the direction of making the Western hemisphere ideal of democracy a greater reality."

Mann, addressing an audience at Baylor University, mentioned no specific kind of collective action.

The State Department is known to have been weighing the possibility of asking for a new American hemisphere foreign ministers' meeting to consider economic and diplomatic sanctions against Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

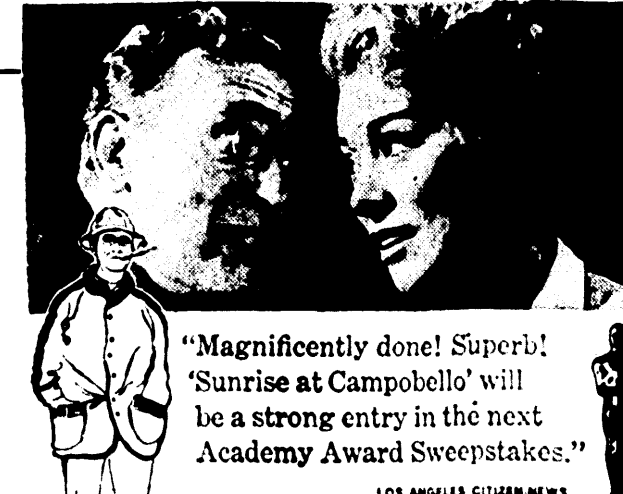

Last August in Costa Rica, a meeting of foreign ministers of the Organization of American States (OAS) voted to condemn Soviet intervention in Cuba but took no steps for economic or other sanctions.

Tulsa Club's Fate Clouded By Park Woes

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Lease renewal for Tulsa's Texas League park Friday clouded the city's future in organized baseball.

The Tulsa Exposition and Fair Corp., which controls the park, offered to renew the lease of the Tulsa Oilers Baseball Club, Inc., but under terms it contends will insure the fair and Tulsa County against financial liability.

Club President Grayle Howlett said the offer was made Oct. 19 but no agreement was reached.

Howlett said negotiations have been under way three weeks but added, "The situation from our standpoint is not too promising" because of various terms and conditions.

He said he received at an Oct. 22 league meeting in San Antonio, Tex., permission to move the oiler franchise to Albuquerque, N. M., or some other suitable city. Oklahoma City sports circles, he said, also are interested in the club.

Howlett said Albuquerque's Duke City Baseball Club offered a 6,000-seat stadium at a $1 a year rental if the club moved there with its St. Louis Cardinal affiliation.

The Oilers have a temporary lease to the end of the year. Conditions for renewal involve the club's financial affairs, park maintenance, and one per cent of gross receipts.

Spartans Go For 5th Title In 5-Mile Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy boys won't be back to run away with individual honors, but Michigan State will be aiming for its fifth straight IC4A cross-country title at Van Cortlandt Park Monday.

The Spartans have taken the varsity team title the past four years. Crawford Kennedy won the individual championship in the past three runnings and for two years before that his brother Henry was the winner. Bill Reynolds and Clay Ward are listed as the leading Michigan State runners this year.

The 5-mile varsity race has drawn entries from 43 teams and about 270 runners, one of the largest fields on record. The 3-mile freshman event which precedes it has 34 teams and over 200 individual entries.

Michigan State's leading team challengers include Army, the 1960 Heptagonal champion; Manhattan, winner of the Metropolitan title Tuesday; Penn State, Pittsburgh, St. John's (N.Y.), Brown, Notre Dame, Yale and Navy.

CROSS COUNTRY

Indian Runners Favored In Howard Payne Event

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (Special)—Louisiana schools are invading Texas Saturday morning for the sixth annual running of the Howard Payne College invitational cross-country track meet, and it looks like the bayou boys may be able to take all the marbles back with them to home states.

Howard Payne was picked to repeat as the champion of the meet—until some fantastic timings from Northeast Louisiana cropped up. And now, runners from that school are accorded the best chance of annexing the top trophy.

The Louisianians from Monroe—coached by former Abilene High School cinder wizard Bob Groseclose—have already compiled some dazzling marks this year, and appear to outclass the field at the Brownwood meet.

Opposing Northeast Louisiana and Howard Payne in the grueling four-mile race at Brownwood Country Club will be North Texas State College, University of Texas, Hardin-Simmons University, Odessa College, McNeese State College, St. Michael's College of Santa Fe, N.M., and Abilene Christian College.

Favored to win the individual medal is a 39-year-old McNeese freshman, Fred Norris, an English import who has clocked a 13:49 on the three-mile jaunt, and has won five of six meets this season. Among his victims have been such outstanding cross-country names as the University of Houston's Al Lawrence, John Maey and Pat Cholesey. However, McNeese is afforded little chance of winning the meet, since their next four runners are far below Norris' pace.

"I've known Bob Groseclose a long time, and have every respect for his track coaching ability," HPC Cinder Boss J. H. (Cap) Shelton said. "And believe me, his charges' timings look like nothing but poison."

Shelton's fears seem well-founded. Northeastern freshman Jimmy Ezell has a fine 15:41 timing on a 3.2 mile course, and he's the slowest man on the team. Northeastern's real wheel horses are Buddy Eiland (junior, 14:31.2); Bill Frye (junior, 15:05); Jack Williams (senior, 15:03); Chuck McCullen (senior, 15:21); and George Abbott (sophomore, 15:31). These, too, are clockings for the 3.2 mile course.

"If they can run the remaining eight tenths of a mile even in five minutes, then these timings would indicate they have nothing to worry about in our meet," Shelton added.

Eiland is the most feared of all Northeastern runners. He copied third in the meet last year, and had the best two-mile NAIA timing across the nation with a fine 9:12 mark.

While Northeast commands the favorite's role, don't rule out Howard Payne, which is coached by one of the nation's most respected mentors. Shelton has been blowing the track whistle at Howard Payne for 42 years now, and seems to thrive on turning out top cross-country teams.

Four times Howard Payne has entered the NAIA meet. The Yellow Jackets won third place twice, sixth once, and in 1957, copped the top trophy.

Howard Payne's top runners this year—with times based on third-mile competitive races—include senior Lyndon Gathright,

Idaho Boxing Team Members Held In Robbery

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Two members of the Idaho State College boxing team and a prospective member were arrested early Friday and charged with robbery. Police said they were Norman Ygnatowicz, Butte, Mont., and Raymond Willmore, Pocatello, team members, and Fred Hernandez of Chicago. All are in their early 20s.

Police said they were charged with robbing Fred Lewis of $135 early Thursday.

Detective Curtis Hall said a watch won by Ygnatowicz in the 1959 Chicago Golden Gloves was found at the scene. Police said Lewis told them he had been drinking with the three men Wednesday night and they left a bar to go to his home early Thursday morning.

The boxers were being held in the Bannock County Jail.

Morton (15:06); sophomore Glenn Petty, Odessa (15:05); sophomore Frank Santiago, Nairn, Kenya, East Africa (15:03); junior Richard Ivey, Littleton, Colorado (15:05); junior David Noble, Odessa (15:25); sophomore Lowell Bishop, Bangs (15:30); and junior Douglas Reid, Cleveland (15:44).

A couple of others who should finish high in the money are North Texas aces John Cooper and Richard Menchaca, who have timed three-mile times of 14:00 and 14:20, respectively.

Richard Padilla of St. Michael's will give a lot of runners trouble. He has posted a 20:23.00 four-mile standard.

Other McNeese runners and best three-mile marks this season include Phil Hurt (sophomore, 15:28); Darwin Enicks (sophomore, 15:22) Ed Campbell (freshman, 16:12); Walter Heintchell (freshman, 16:15); Carl McPherson (freshman, 16:31); and C. J. Abshire (freshman, 17:43).

Entered in the two-mile high school cross-country race are defending champion Midland, Dallas Sunset, Dallas Bryan Adams, Dallas Thomas Jefferson, Manor, Odessa Permian, Waco University, Austin McCallum and Brownwood.

The event is sponsored jointly by Howard Payne College and the Brownwood Junior Chamber of Commerce.

NORTH CADD0 BEATEN

VIVIAN, La. (Special)—Shreveport's Jesuit Blue Flyers scored a first-period touchdown against North Caddo's Rebels and made it stand up for a 7-6 decision to drop the Vivian Club to a tie for the district 1-AA lead.

Flyer end Jerry Barr speared a fumble out of the air with only five minutes gone in the first quarter and raced 50 yards for the Jesuit tally. Pete Prados kicked the game-winning extra point.

The sputtering North Caddo offense finally got under way in the fourth stanza with all-state candidate Kenny Tidwell going 63 yards for the TD on a double reverse. The extra point was missed by B. H. Weaver on a kick.

Minden can tie North Caddo for the district crown by beating Springhill next week. If Springhill wins, North Caddo will take the title and meet Neville in a first-round state playoff.

WARRIORS, WISNER TIE

ST. JOSEPH (Special) Davidson of St. Joseph and Wisner fought to a 7-7 deadlock here Friday night in a 3-B conference tilt.

The Bulldogs from Franklin Parish scored first, but then gave up a touchdown to the Tensas Warriors for a tie ball game.

D. D. Smith, climaxing a sustained drive, scored from nine yards out for Wisner in the first quarter. Sonny Boundrant converted.

But the Warriors bounced back in the second period with a long drive. Butch Stockstill broke free from the 20 to score and then ran the point over.

St. Joseph and Wisner ran up 11 first downs each.

It was the final game for both clubs, leaving St. Joseph with a 3-5 record for the season, 1-5-1 in the conference.

Wisner ended the season with 1-7-1, 0-5-1 in 3-B play.

BERNICE, 14-0

BERNICE, La. (Special)—Bernice closed out its football season by blanking Arcadia, 14-0, here last night.

The victory gave Bernice's Bears a 7-3-0 record for the season. Arcadia, also ending its season, finished up with a 3-7-0 mark.

Quarterback Ronald Fitzgerald threw a 33-yard touchdown pass to Freddy Dawson in the first period, then tossed a 37-yard aerial to Robert Jackson for a TD in the second.

Morris Reeves ran both extra points. Omar Driskill was outstanding for Arcadia.

DELHI BEATS WILDCATS

WINNSBORO (Special)—Delhi's bruising Bears rolled to their eighth victory of the season here Friday night by coming from behind to drop Winnsboro, 18-12.

Delhi's victory enabled the Bears to stay in the heat of the 2-A conference race with powerful Tallulah.

However, for several minutes early in the game, Winnsboro indicated that the outcome might be different.

In the first period, quarterback Joe Henry got off a 19-yard pass to end Hines Davis to set

Northeast 11 Picked To Win Tilt Tonight

Southeastern Louisiana and McNeese meet Saturday in a crucial Gulf States Conference football game which will probably decide which one of the teams gets a share of the 1960 crown.

Both teams have 2-1 records—with their only losses at the hands of defending champion Louisiana Tech. A victory for either school would push them into a tie with Tech for the conference lead.

Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m. The game is SLCS' homecoming.

In another day game, the University of Southwestern Louisiana which also wants a sliver of the crown, invades Natchitoches to meet Northwestern State.

A USL victory would also put it into a tie with Tech as the conference race goes into the final week.

In non-conference action, Mississippi Southern, a one-time GSC member, entertains Tech while Northeast hosts Jacksonville (Ala) State.

Last week the old crystal ball had a perfect day to bring the season average to .632.

The outlook for this week is grim, with several upsets looming on the horizon. Anyway, the battered old piece of glass comes up with these predictions:

Southeastern over McNeese—Stan Galloway's team still feels the sting of Tech's come-from-behind last minute victory but they are at home and its homecoming. The Lions overall team work should overcome the threat posed by Don Breaux, the Cowboys' aerial ace.

Southwestern at Northwestern—USL should have little trouble in spoiling the Demons' homecoming. Week after week, the Bulldogs manage to stay in the victory column despite a large injury list.

However, if the boys from Lafayette are too confident, NSC could walk off with a victory in its pocket.

Northeast over Jacksonville—Neither team has an impressive record. However, the Indians are at home and they'd like to win for a change.

Last Mississippi Southern over Tech—Coach Thad (Pie) Vann's South-erners haven't forgotten last year's upset by Tech. The South-erners climbed to major college status this year and they have no intentions of losing to another small school. They fell last week to Arkansas, State, which also upset Tech earlier in the season.

Johnson's 63 Puts Him In Mexico Lead

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., with seven birdies and an eagle, shot a course record 63 Friday and took the halfway lead in the $10,000 Mexican Open Golf Tournament with a 36-hole total of 133.

Unheralded Bob Stone of Junction City, Kan., moved up to second with a 68 for 137 as the opening round co-leaders, Billy Maxwell of Oceanside, Calif., and Canada's Al Balding, slipped back.

Maxwell had a par 72 at the Chapultepec Country Club and shared third place at 138 with Dave Marr of Houston, Tex., who had a 70. Balding shot a 73 and had a two-day total of 139.

"Everything broke right for me," said Johnson. "It was just one of those days—those wonderful days."

His 63 broke by a stroke the course record held by Byron Nelson, Roberto de Vicenzo, and Maxwell.

Appeal Will Be Made For Cal. Poly Fund

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Part of Saturday's national telecast of the Ohio State-Iowa football game will be devoted to an appeal for funds for the California Polytechnic College student memorial fund. The fund was established after the Oct. 29 plane crash in which 13 of the college's football players were killed.

Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., said TV viewers will be asked to donate to the fund, which will be used to help dependent students and to establish a scholarship fund for children of the student-athletes.

Five of the 13 players killed and three of the 19 injured were married. The married players had a total of 10 children.

Byers said the University of Iowa, the host team for the Big Ten game, has arranged for the crowd of more than 60,000 fans to observe a moment of silence in tribute to the California Poly team. The nationwide appeal for funds will follow.

"The tragic loss suffered by Cal Poly is of concern to its sister institutions and to all followers of college football," Byers said. "The NCAA, American Broadcasting Co., and Iowa and Ohio State are pleased to join in this appeal."

The Northeast injured are French, held out of contact work this week because of a slight shoulder separation, halfback Ferdy Cruce, a bad ankle, and guard Perry Beaver, tackle Ross Nolan and center Billy McGraw, all hampered by pulled muscles.

Only French and possibly Beaver are expected to be question marks by gametime. Either Nolan or freshman Jim LaCoste is expected to start in French's place.

Northeast's No. 1 problem will again be the offense, an attack that has produced only six touchdowns this fall. The season opener against Arkansas State is the only occasion the Redskins have been able to score more than one six-pointer.

Quarterback Don Wattigny, halfbacks Cruce and Al Ott and fullback Willie Ragan are the probable backfield starters for the Tribe with Jack Webb slated for work at quarterback, Levy Redden and Terry Reeves at the halves and Edwin Thomas and Devone Payne at full.

The Indian defense as been fair, even excellent at times. End Charlie Barnes, tackle Delmas Thorne, guards Dan Keith and Billy Foster and center Gerry Marchbank have been the stand-out performers up front most of the season.

The Syracuse Nationals met the New York Knicks in the second game at Madison Square Garden.

The Celtics, defending league champions, started slowly but gained momentum at the end of the first period and coasted from there. Trailing 29-23, Boston went on a 10-point spurt to open it up.

The Celtics entered the second period with a 38-31 margin and increased their lead to 67-54 at halftime.

The Royals, sparked by Jack Twyman's effective outside shooting, pulled back in the third quarter, but Bob Cousy, who sat out most of the game with a bruised thigh, reentered and helped Boston pull comfortably ahead again.

The victory was Boston's fourth in six starts and second over Cincinnati in three meetings. The Royals now are 6-3.

Tommy Heinsohn topped the Celts with 30 points and Bill Sharman had 26. Twyman's 29 points led the Royals. Oscar Robertson was limited to 17.

Gamecocks Test Hungry Indians

Hungry after a long and fruitless road trip, Northeast's Indians hope to feed on Gamecock at 8 o'clock tonight in Brown Stadium.

Tonight's clash with Jacksonville State's Gamecocks will be first for the Tribesmen in Brown Stadium since they licked Northwestern, 7-6, here five weeks ago. The Indians also won their other home game, the 13-6 opener over Arkansas State, but have lost six contests on the road, a situation that makes Northeast pretty glad to be home.

The Gamecocks proved to be pretty tough birds last fall when they whipped Northeast, 27-12, at Jacksonville and should put the Tribe's home winning streak to an exacting test, especially since regular tackle Luther French is not expected to play and several others Indians are nursing minor injuries.

Both teams have similar records. Northeast stands at 2-6 for the campaign and Don Salls' Jacksonville club at 3-5. Northeast's losses have come at the hands of Arlington, 16-0; East Texas State, 13-4; McNeese, 14-5; Southeastern, 26-0; Southwestern, 8-7; and Delta State, 27-0.

Only one team has beaten the Gamecocks decisively, that being Chattanooga, which won a 28-0 decision in the season opener. Since then the Alabama team has beaten Troy State, 21-0; Livingston, 14-7; and Middle Tennessee, 19-0, while falling to Austin Peay, 14-7; East Tennessee, 21-14; Carson-Newman, 7-0, and Florence State last week, 14-7.

The Northeast injured are French, held out of contact work this week because of a slight shoulder separation, halfback Ferdy Cruce, a bad ankle, and guard Perry Beaver, tackle Ross Nolan and center Billy McGraw, all hampered by pulled muscles.

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Mel Rideout passed for 176 yards and three touchdowns as he guided Richmond to a 35-28 Southern Conference football victory over Furman Friday.

But the Spiders had to weather a second-half passing storm by Furman junior quarterback Billy Canty to claim the victory.

All told, 51 passes were attempted and there were 32 completions without a single interception. Richmond gained 176 yards via passing and Furman 265.

Rideout's 13 completions in 19 attempts netted Richmond three touchdowns and two conversions. Canty's 19 completions in 30 attempts produced two touchdowns and one conversion.

Alan Eck of Northern Illinois University caught five touchdown passes for 108 yards in NIU's opener against North Central.

Bossier Cops 12-7 Nod Over Ouachita Gridders

BOSSIER CITY, La. — For 12 minutes Friday night, the ghost of Bossier High School's 1969 district championship football team hovered the Memorial Stadium icebox and send chills down the backs of the Ouachita Lions.

As it turned out, those 12 minutes were decisive enough to preserve a Bearkat hex on the Bossier team, for when the flying subside Bossier had risen from rubble of a disastrous 1960 season and had thumped the favored Lions, 12-7.

Lengthy first quarter dashes by sophomore fullback Charles Glover and senior halfback C. L.

Madden propelled the Bossiers to a 12-0 lead and the Lions spent the rest of the evening in increasing moods of retaliation. But a late Ouachita passing spree was spoiled — and the Lions are still looking for their second district victory.

The triumph was the fourth in 10 games for Bossier, which was working on a five-game losing streak. Ouachita suffered its fourth straight reversal after five straight shutout victories. The win also moved Bossier ahead zone but the red flag stopped the drive. A late Lion passing threat failed and Bossier was on the Ouachita 15 when time expired.

Madden gained 114 yards in 11 carries for Bossier. Bubba Via got 70 yards in 17 carries to lead Ouachita and Smith had 47 in 12 and Herbert Perry 37 in 5.

Ellen, Johnny Butler and Johnny Roach were defensive stars for Ouachita.

DOWNSVILLE, La. (Special) — Calhoun boys and the two Marion clubs advanced in the Downsville Tournament here last night with victories.

Wanda Brasher of Marion and Joyce Antley of Downsville each scored 32 points as Marion girls won a 60-64 decision. Marion boys beat Quitman by a 51-43 count with Dennis Townes getting 19 for the winner and Arnold Ramsey 23 for the losers.

Calhoun boys took a 57-52 nod over Downsville despite 30 points by the losers' James Guice. James Weems got 19 points for Calhoun.

FAIR PARK'S big offensive weapon, halfback Steve Cryer picks up yardage against West Monroe in last night's battle at Rebel Stadium. Closing in for the tackle are Cline Averett (74), Richard Cook (81) and an unidentified Rebel. West Monroe gained a 38-13 district win.

West Monroe Rebels Gain 38-13 Win Over Fair Park

West Monroe, slightly favored over Fair Park, used a good combination of speed and power, and a fast-rushing defense to flatten the Indians 38-13 for a 1-AAA district win at Rebel Stadium last night.

The Rebs held off the Shreveporters with some fine offensive play by almost every back on the bench and clamped an airtight pass defense on the Indians' quarterback Jack Hatcher.

Halfback Buck Fox turned in his usual powerful running game, picking up two touchdowns, with Don Harrel, John Covington,

Charles Van Zile and a Jim Van Zile to Freddy Hooter pass accounting for the other markers.

Both teams had trouble holding on to the ball, losing five fumbles each, but the Rebs ball control game spelled the difference.

After an exchange of fumbles following the opening kickoff, Rebs' quarterback Jim Van Zile tightened up the defense at the Indian 42, then lofted a high pass to end Freddy Hooter who caught up with the ball at the 25 yard line, behind the defenders, and went over for the first score of the night with 7:58 minutes left in the opening period. Covington's kick was for the extra point was wide.

The Rebs pushed over another quick score after Fair Park's Charles Maranto fumbled trying to receive the kickoff and Covington fell on the ball at the Indian 25 - yard line. Fox and Harrel alternated moving the ball to the 3 yard line where Fox smashed over right guard for the touchdown. Van Zile fumbled the ball on the PAT attempt and the score was 12-0.

Fair Park couldn't move the ball after the next kickoff and punted to the Rebel 34 yard line. On first down Don Harrel broke into the clear, slowed down to dodge a defender and was caught from behind by the only man left in the play at the Tribe 30. Jim Van Zile hit Buck Fox with a 10 yard pass and on the next play Fox broke through the Indian line, faked the secondary men and went 27 yards for a touchdown.

Reb linemen Jimmy Randall, Richard Drew and Tommy Averett put the pressure on the Indian running game, forcing Hatcher to take to the air. On a fourth down pass play by Fair Park, Buck Fox was in the right spot, picked off the aerial and dashed 79 yards on a fine defensive play carrying to the Tribe six. Two plays later Don Harrel ended the West Monroe scoring with a one yard line buck and the extra point attempt by Covington failed.

Fair Park dominated much of the final quarter and picked up its last touchdown with 8:58 minutes left in the game. Halfback Jerry Lindsay, who might have been the weapon needed by the Hard - running Fair Park halfback Steve Cryer sparked a drive to open the second period that netted the Indians their only score in the first half. Cryer took a handoff at West Monroe's 19 yard line and sprinted 62 yards to the Rebs 18 before Jim Van Zile caught up and made the save. The Rebs' Butch LaBrano, Jewel McBroom, and the biggest defensive man of the game Tojo Green, dug in for three plays but finally bruising fullback Charles Ogletree went over from the one yard line. Dickie Smith's kick for the extra point was no good.

Fair Park was about to make a battle of it but John Covington pulled a trick that was too much for the Indians. Jack Hatcher attempted to pitch out to halfback Steve Cryer but the ball ended up on the ground, and while several Indians watched, Covington picked up the loose ball and had a ten yard headstart to paydirt before anyone made an attempt to stop him. The fullback went 58 yards for the score and kicked his own extra point to put West Monroe ahead, 25-7 at the half.

Covington proved to be the constant thorn in Fair Park's side and in the third quarter he slipped through to block Jim Frazier's punt attempt at the Indian 33 yard line, setting up touchdown number five. Covington came close to getting the score himself, traveling 24 yards on first down, to the Fair Park one, but he couldn't get the last yard with

Two Teams Drop Franchises In Continental Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—New York and Houston have formally resigned from the Continental League. These clubs were awarded baseball franchises in the National League last month and will start playing in 1962.

A Continental League spokesman said the withdrawal of New York and Houston was effective Thursday following a meeting at which representatives of all eight teams were present. The remaining six members of the Continental group are Minneapolis-St. Paul, Toronto, Buffalo, Denver, Atlanta and Dallas-Fort Worth.

Carroll High, Morehouse Tie

In a bruising defensive battle, the Carroll High Bulldogs had to settle for a tie against Morehouse High of Bastrop last night, when the game ended 14-14.

Edward Johnson scored for Morehouse early in the first quarter. With Morehouse leading 6-0, Anderson Cheffin tied it for Carroll on a two-yard plunge.

Julian Gray added Carroll's other touchdown while Hayes Dalton tallied for the Tigers.

Both teams added two points after the touchdowns, to make the score 14-14.

On a last offensive attempt by Fair Park, Jewel McBroom and Jimmy Randall dug in for the Rebs, spilling Hatcher and Lindsay for two straight losses, and West Monroe took over to run out the clock at the Rebel 27.

Reb linemen Jimmy Randall, Richard Drew and Tommy Averett put the pressure on the Indian running game, forcing Hatcher to take to the air. Hard - running Fair Park halfback Steve Cryer sparked a drive to open the second period that netted the Indians their only score in the first half. Cryer took a handoff at West Monroe's 19 yard line and sprinted 62 yards to the Rebs 18 before Jim Van Zile caught up and made the save. The Rebs' Butch LaBrano, Jewel McBroom, and the biggest defensive man of the game Tojo Green, dug in for three plays but finally bruising fullback Charles Ogletree went over from the one yard line. Dickie Smith's kick for the extra point was no good.

Fair Park was about to make a battle of it but John Covington pulled a trick that was too much for the Indians. Jack Hatcher attempted to pitch out to halfback Steve Cryer but the ball ended up on the ground, and while several Indians watched, Covington picked up the loose ball and had a ten yard headstart to paydirt before anyone made an attempt to stop him. The fullback went 58 yards for the score and kicked his own extra point to put West Monroe ahead, 25-7 at the half.

Covington proved to be the constant thorn in Fair Park's side and in the third quarter he slipped through to block Jim Frazier's punt attempt at the Indian 33 yard line, setting up touchdown number five. BOTH AFTER FIRST SEC WIN

LSU May Go To Airways Against Maroons Tonight

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) — To overcome a sturdy Mississippi State line Saturday night, Louisiana State's Tigers may again resort to the forward pass.

In the 54th meeting of the two teams, both will be trying to better identically deceptive 2-4-1 records and share their first Southeastern Conference victory of the season. A crowd of 50,000 is expected for the 8 p.m. kickoff in Tiger Stadium.

LSU, a winner over Mississippi State only four times in the last ten seasons, had to take to the air to gain the last two decisions. In the national championship season of 1958 a fourth down pass from Warren Rabb to Billy Hendrix enabled the Tigers to come from behind and win, 7-6. Last year, with Rabb injured, Durel Matherne passed for two touchdowns in a 27-0 win over the Maroons.

Mississippi State's tough line that troubled the Tigers for the past two seasons has two of its start on hand for Saturday night's contest, tackle Walter Suggs, a 6-5, 240- pound giant, and center Tom Goode, a 6-3, 230 - pounder.

If LSU is to be successful with a passing attack, sophomore quarterback Lynn Amedee must respond with another fine aerial demonstration. "Amedee will enter the ball game when we are in offensive territory," said coach Paul Dietzel. "In defensive and kicking situations, Jimmy Field and Darryl Jenkins will be at quarterback. Amedee is our offensive quarterback."

Mississippi State can also be expected to throw the football Saturday night. Maroon quarterback Charlie Furlow ranks fifth in SEC

Hogs Heavy Favorites To Defeat SMU

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks are 15-point favorites to move within one step of the Cotton Bowl when they take on so-far impotent Southern Methodist before 1,000 frantic fans Saturday afternoon.

If the Hogs beat SMU, only a Nov. 19 game with Texas Tech at Lubbock would stand between Arkansas and the host spot in the Bowl Jan. 1.

The Ponies haven't won in seven games, but Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles has been admonishing his team this week not to take SMU lightly.

The Mustangs lost to Texas two weeks ago 17-7 and tied Texas A&M 0-0 last week, and Broyles says this is proof the SMU sophomores have come a long way.

"They'll be laying for us," he said. "And we'll be sitting ducks." Arkansas has lost one conference game. Rice can tie the Hogs for the title by winning the rest of its games, but Arkansas would go to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of last week's 3-0 victory over the Owls.

Both teams had four men injured this week, but all were expected to see action.

Duke Risks High Rating With Deacons

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP)—Duke's football team, ranked seventh nationally, risks that lofty status against potentially dangerous Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game Saturday.

The Duke Blue Devils rested on their pace-setting 4-0 ACC record while venturing outside the conference to trim Georgia Tech and Navy in their last two games and bring their over-all record to 6-1. Victory would clinch at least a tie for the Duke team that has excited the interest of several bowl game operators.

Wake Forest, rated 1-2 in most pre-season conference forecasts, was a disappointing 2-5 record.

However, the Deacons lost to Maryland and North Carolina State by a total of only three points. They will have the arm of quarterback Norman Snead as a highly dangerous weapon. The nation's No. 5 passer will be closing his home career in this game and striving to break Duke's eight-year winning streak of the Deacons.

Duke, not throwing as often as Wake Forest, has the top passing efficiency record in the conference. Quarterbacks Don Altman and Walt Rappold have completed 77 of 121 passes, a 63.6 pace and well above the ACC record.

In addition, Duke has a much more impressive running game.

Pep Cancels

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Promoter Willie Pep, former world featherweight champion, Friday canceled his first fight show scheduled for Monday night because of financial difficulties.

Irish Matt Mullaney of Springfield had been scheduled to meet Manny Fernandez of New York in a six-round bout in the 130-pound class.

get rugged competition from the big Mississippi State line.

Effective ball carrying should also be in evidence. Maroon fullback Mackie Weaver, the fifth ranking rusher in the SEC, and quarterback Billy Hill do much of State's running. LSU halbacks Jerry Stovall and Wendell Harris have also demonstrated ball carrying ability this season.

In 53 previous meetings LSU has won 28, State has won 22, and three games have ended in ties. Tigers, in the last two games, won in 1951, 3-0; 1955, 34-7; 1958, 7-6; and 1959, 27-0.

VITAL SEC CONTEST

Gibbs-Led Rebs Face Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Can Tennessee stop Jake Gibbs' passing? That's the big task confronting the Volunteers in their homecoming football game with Mississippi Saturday.

Gibbs, Mississippi's versatile quarterback, rattled Tennessee's secondary with passes last fall in the Rebels' 37-7 romp over the Vols. He completed nine of 11 tosses for 125 yards and two touchdowns. Five of the six touchdowns after setting it up with a pass.

If the Vols can stop Gibbs, who has completed 42 of 82 throws for 718 yards and nine touchdowns, they have a good chance of defeating undefeated Mississippi. The only blemish on the Rebels' record is a 6-6 tie with Louisiana State.

Seven opponents have connected on 35 of 66 passes against the Vols, but only one was good for a touchdown. Five of the six touchdowns given up by Tennessee have come on running plays. Tennessee has a 5-1-1 mark.

Tennessee will counter with the running of tailback Glenn Glass and fullbacks Bunny Orr and J. W. Carter. Glass has shouldered the burden of Tennessee's single

Scribe Claims Rigney To Get Detroit Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sports Editor Roger Williams of the News-Call Bulletin wrote Friday that Bill Rigney will be named Detroit Tiger baseball manager with a two-year contract at $35,000 a year.

At Rigney's home, callers were told the former San Francisco Giants skipper had gone to Carmel, Calif., for the weekend.

Williams wrote, "Rigney flew to Los Angeles this morning to meet with Detroit President John Fitzer and other officials including Rick Ferrell and Jim Campbell, vice presidents.

"Ferrell, who has favored Rigney from the start, called the former Giants' manager at his home in Walnut Creek (Calif.) last night to offer Rigney the job."

Williams said official confirmation is expected in Detroit early next week.

Rigney managed the Giants four seasons before being fired June 18. San Francisco was in second place then and finished fifth.

Moyer Battles Fernandez On TV Mitt Card

NEW YORK (AP)—Phil Moyer, the middleweight of the fighting Moyer family of Portland, Ore., aims for his fifth straight victory Saturday night in a television 10-rounder with Cuba's Florentino Fernandez at Madison Square Garden.

Despite his four consecutive wins—all this year—Moyer Friday was rated an 8-5 underdog to the stiff-punching Cuban.

The broad-shouldered, thick-necked Fernandez moves up to the middleweight division against Moyer. At about 154 pounds he feels he will be able to pack more power into his left hook. The hook has been responsible for his record of 21 knockouts in 29 fights. The 24-year-old Cuban, ranked among the welterweights now, has a 27-2 record.

Moyer, 24, outpointed former welterweight champion Don Jordan and Cecil Shorts in his last two fights to boost his record to 21-3-1. A good boxer with a fine left jab, Moyer has stopped only seven opponents.

In his only previous appearance in the Garden, Moyer dropped a 10-rounder to Canadian Willie Greaves, the British Empire middleweight champion. He took the bout on two days notice, however, and gave away 6 pounds.

Fernandez also was beaten in his last Garden start. He suffered a deep slash of his lower lip and was outpointed in ten by slick Emile Griffith.

The bout starts at 10 p.m., EST, and will be telecast (ABC) coast to coast. Scoring is by rounds.

Jasen Resigns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Resignation of Philip R. Jasen as public relations director of the Los Angeles Lakers basketball team was announced Friday.

Jasen quit to return to Minneapolis, former home of the Lakers, to head a newly formed publicity agency.

A PROMISING FRESHMAN at Louisiana Tech, Fred Cook was a star at Jonesboro-Hodge in his high school days. He's a 215-pound tackle.

PLENTY OF INCENTIVE

Southern Hosts Techmen Tonight

Rain and a wet field have hampered Tech workouts this week as Tech coaches moved to find a way to stop Southern's high - geared offense.

The Southerners have plenty of incentive for this one. They were upset 14-13 last week by Arkansas State and still vividly recall last year's battle when Tech upended them 16-0 — their first shutout in several years.

Southern has a 5-2 mark, compared to Tech's 6-2 record. Only mutual foe was Arkansas State, which beat Tech 7-3 and Southern 14-13. Powerful North Carolina State barely edged the Southerners 20-13.

The Southern attack is built around Don Fuell, high - publicized ex - Auburn quarterback

Gophers Rate Choice Over Iowa Rivals

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota, the Big Ten championship and mythical national title within its grasp, rates a 7-point favorite over Purdue Saturday.

Victory for the No. 1 ranked Gophers will clinch at least a share of their first Big Ten title in 19 years and place them solidly in the running for 1960 national honors.

And the Gophers aren't running scared since soaring to the top in The Associated Press poll after last week's 27-10 victory over Iowa.

"I think we'll find that staying there is even harder than getting there," Minnesota Coach Murry Warmath said. "But this team has been through a lot together. It isn't going to scare."

Minnesota has a chance to win the conference crown outright next week at Wisconsin, if the Gophers get by Purdue.

The Gophers have not seen a versatile attack to compare with Purdue's since the Illinois game, the one Minnesota came closest to losing in its run of seven straight victories.

The Boilermakers have a menacing passer in Bernie Allen, and they may use that weapon to the ultimate Saturday in an effort to find a Gopher defensive vulnerability that hasn't been sighted so far.

They have fullback power in Willie Jones and a halfback speedster in Jim Tiller.

In Warmath's judgment, Purdue will show Minnesota one of the most bruising lines in the nation. But Warmath fears no Minnesota letdown in the aftermath of last week's victory over Iowa.

"First of all," he said, "we just can't afford it."

"We'll have trouble beating Purdue under any circumstances," said Warmath. "They've lost four games, but so help me I can't see how they lost any of them."

Wrecked by fumbles and other misplays, Purdue is only 2-4-1 for the season. But one of its victories came over Ohio State, a team some Big Ten watchers say is equal to Minnesota.

Minnesota expects to be in relatively strong physical condition. It had a number of minor injuries in the Iowa game, but nearly all of its top men will be ready to go.

A crowd of about 60,000 is expected at Memorial Stadium.

Hoad Triumphs

TOYKO (AP)—Lew Hoad won the first pro tennis tourney ever held in Japan Friday when he defeated Ken Rosewall 6-2, 0-6, 3-6, 6-1, 13-11.

Mal Anderson downed Ashley Cooper 6-2, 6-3 for third place. All four are Australians.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

League Titles, Bowl Bids At Stake Today, Tonight

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

One conference title and perhaps a share in four others are at stake Saturday as the 1960 college football season hits the "them that has, gets" stage.

Besides the glory of being a conference champion or co-champ, "them that has" also stand to get all that goes with a post-season bowl invitation.

Minnesota, the nation's No. 1 team in the latest Associated Press poll, probably has more of everything than anyone ever imagined and could use to clinch at least a tie for its first Big Ten title in two decades.

A victory over Purdue (2-4-1) would give the resurgent Golden Gophers (7-0) a share of the title. This, coupled with a win over Wisconsin next week, means the title and the possibility of a Rose Bowl bid.

The host half of that Rose Bowl duo should be Washington (No. 6). The Huskies (7-1) can wrap up their second straight Big Five title by beating California (1-6-1).

Second-ranked Missouri (8-0) is almost assured of returning to the Orange Bowl, but is eyeing the Big Eight title even more. The Tigers, playing defending champion Oklahoma (2-4-1), can gain at least a tie for the title with a victory and if second-place Kansas loses to Colorado. Should both be victorious, then the title is decided when they meet next Saturday. Missouri hasn't beaten Oklahoma, however, since 1945.

Also eyeing that Big Ten race is third-ranked Ohio State and fifth-ranked Iowa, both 6-1. They meet in a game that will be nationally televised (2:30 p.m., EST, ABC). The victor here would snatch the title or a share of it if Minnesota falters.

Mississippi (No. 4) finds itself in a dogfight to hang onto the lead in the Southeastern Conference. Ole Miss is 7-0-1 over-all and 3-0-1 in the conference. But one misstep means disaster with 10th-ranked Auburn and Florida tied for second with 4-1 records.

Mississippi meets Tennessee (5-1-1), hile Auburn takes on Georgia (5-3), the defending SEC champ. Ole Miss and Auburn each have a conference game remaining, but Florida winds up SEC play against Tulane Saturday.

Duke, upset winner of previously unbeaten Navy a week ago, can gain a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference title by beating Wake Forest (2-5). The seventh-ranked Blue Devils (6-1) play North Carolina State, in second, for the title next week. N.C. State is outside against Arizona State.

Arkansas (No. 9) also finds itself embroiled in a furious Southwest Conference race. One slip and the Razorbacks are just about dead. They face winless Southern Methodist. Arkansas is 4-1 in the SWC while second-place Rice is 3-1. Rice meets Texas A&M, winner of only one game.

Navy, ranked eighth, seeks to extend the nation's longest losing string, Virginia's 24 in a row since 1957, when the two meet at the Naval Academy. It is the Middies last game before their traditional affair against Army, which also is idle after Saturday's game against Pitt.

Things are humming in the Ivy League where Yale, 7-0 over-all, and matching Princeton's 5-0 league mark, play the Tigers for what will undoubtedly be the title. Both are favored in windup games next week. Virginia Military, 3-0 in the Southern Conference, plays the Citadel, 4-1 in second place. VMI may have to wait until it meets Virginia Tech next week to clinch matters.

New Mexico State (7-0) plays West Texas State in a Border Conference game while Utah State (8-0) is out of the Skyline Conference against College of the Pacific.

The Associated Press' No. 1 small college team, Ohio University, plays Bowling Green, ranked fifth, for first place in the Mid-American Conference. Both are 5-0 in league play.

SOUTH: South Carolina at Clemson, Houston at Florida State, Alabama at Georgia Tech, Xavier at Kentucky, Miss. State at LSU, night, Maryland at Vanderbilt, William & Mary at Vanderbilt, Notre Dame at Miami, night.

MIDWEST: Wisconsin at Illinois, Iowa State at Kansas State, Cincinnati at Marquette, Indiana at Michigan, Oklahoma State at Nebraska, Michigan State at Northwestern, North Texas at Tulsa.

SOUTHWEST: Southern California at Baylor, Texas at TCU.

FAR WEST: Brigham Young at Denver, West Virginia at Oregon, Oregon State at Stanford, Air Force at UCLA, Montana at Utah.

Americans Win In Tennis Meet At South Wales

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The competition got a little tougher Friday, but all four American Davis Cup players won their second round matches in the New South Wales Tennis Championships.

The victors included Americans Barry MacKay, Earl (Butch) Buchholz, Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, and Australia's leading trio of Neale Fraser, Rod Laver and Roy Emerson.

Despite the presence of the many internationalists, the tournament is attracting scant interest from the public. Although this traditionally is the warmup tourney for the American Davis Cup stars, only a few hundred fans have turned out at the White City Stadium courts, site of the Davis Cup challenge round, Dec. 26-28.

MacKay, top-seeded American from Dayton, Ohio, defeated Wayne Reid, 7-5, 7-5, 9-7. Buchholz, of St. Louis, eliminated Greg Hughes, 7-5, 6-4, 7-5. McKinley of St. Louis, routed Robert Brien, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3. Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., edged Geoff Pares, 11-3, 10-8, 8-6, 6-4. All of the losers were minor Australian players.

Northeast Home Again

Northeast 11 Picked To Win Tilt Tonight

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer
Southeastern Louisiana and McNeese meet Saturday in a crucial Gulf States Conference football game which will probably decide which one of the teams gets a share of the 1960 crown.

Both teams have 2-1 records—with their only losses at the hands of defending champion Louisiana Tech. A victory for either school would push them into a tie with Tech for the conference lead.

Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m. The game is SLU's homecoming. In another day game, the University of Southwestern Louisiana which also wants a sliver of the crown, invades Natchitoches to meet Northwestern State.

A USL victory would also put it into a tie with Tech as the conference race goes into the final week.

In non-conference action, Mississippi Southern, a one-time GSC member, entertains Tech while Northeast hosts Jacksonville (Ala.) State.

Last week the old crystal ball had a perfect day to bring the season average to .632.

The outlook for this week is glum, with several upsets looming on the horizon. Anyway, the battered old piece of glass comes up with these predictions:

Southeastern over McNeese—Stan Galloway's team still feels the sting of Tech's come-from-behind last minute victory but they are at home and its homecoming.

The Lions overall team work should overcome the threat posed by Don Breau, the Cowboys' ace.

Southwestern at Northwestern—USL should have little trouble in spoiling the Demons' homecoming. Week after week, the Bulldogs manage to stay in the victory column despite a large injury list.

However, if the boys from Lafayette are too confident, NSC could walk off with a victory in its pocket.

Northeast over Jacksonville—Neither team has an impressive record. However, the Indians are at home and they'd like to win for a change.

Mississippi Southern over Tech—Coach Thad (Pie) Vann's Southerners haven't forgotten last year's upset by Tech. The Southerners climbed to major college status this year and they have no intentions of losing to another small school. They fell last week to Arkansas State, which also upset Tech earlier in the season.

Johnson's 63 Puts Him In Mexico Lead

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., with seven brides and an eagle, shot a course record 63 Friday and took the halfway lead in the $10,000 Mexican Open Golf Tournament with a 36-hole total of 133.

Unheralded Bob Stone of Junction City, Kan., moved up to second with a 68 for 137 as the opening round co-leaders, Billy Maxwell of Oceanside, Calif., and Canada's Al Balding, slipped back.

Maxwell had a par 72 at the Chapultepec Country Club and shared third place at 138 with Dave Marr of Houston, Tex., who had a 70. Balding shot a 73 and had a two-day total of 139.

"Everything broke right for me," said Johnson. "It was just one of those days—those wonderful days."

His 63 broke by a stroke the course record held by Byron Nelson, Roberto de Vicenzo, and Maxwell.

The field of 120 will be cut to the low 35 pros and the low 20 amateurs for Saturday's third round.

Many scored when David Worsham ran eight yards.

Higgins was the leading ground gainer with 166 yards. LaSalle had a total 342 yards on the ground.

OAK GROVE, 27-13
OAK GROVE, La. (Special)—Oak Grove had a 21-0 lead by the early minutes of the third period and knocked Eudora, Ark., out of the unbeaten ranks with a 27-13 victory here last night.

George Murphy ran three yards for the first Oak Grove TD in the initial quarter and Ronnie Myrick went one yard later in the stanza. Myrick scored on a seven-yard run in the third and passed four yards to Murphy for the final TD in the fourth.

Twice-tied Eudora scored in the third on Kenny Runnels' two-yard run, a TD set up by Billy Alexander's 62-yard dash. Don Ford made the PAT. Alva Lee Whittington ran two yards in the fourth for the final TD.

Myrick ran two extra points for the winners and B. C. Sowell one. Oak Grove had 20 first downs to 14 for the losers and gained 375 yards to 271.

DELHI BEATS WILDCATS
WINNSBORO (Special)—Delhi's bruising Bears rolled to their eighth victory of the season here Friday night by coming from behind to drop Winnsboro, 18-12.

Delhi's victory enabled the Bears to stay in the heat of the 2-A conference race with powerful Tallulah.

However, for several minutes early in the game, Winnsboro indicated that the outcome might be different.

In the first period, quarterback Joe Henry got off a 19-yard pass to end Hines Davis to set

Two Teams Tie In Bastrop Pro-Am Meet

BASTROP, La. (Special)—Johnny Myers and Lee Edwards and Frank Champ and Brice Pirtle tied for the championship of a pro-am golf tournament at the Morehouse Country Club here yesterday with 60's.

Myers and Champ are professionals, Myers from Minneapolis, Minn., and Champ from Shreveport. Edwards is from Vicksburg and Pirtle from Bastrop.

Four teams tied for second with 61 each, Champ and Don Sims of Bastrop, Myers and Joe Schendle of Bastrop, host pro Leonard Warren and Edwards and pro Jackie Doss of Monroe and Ben Johnston of Bastrop.

Warren won the pro sweepstakes with a 67 while John Cook of Minneapolis and Myers tied for second with 69.

Star professionals Jay and Lionel Hebert, scheduled to appear at the meet, did not make it because of failure to make plane connections, Warren said.

Appeal Will Be Made For Cal. Poly Fund

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Part of Saturday's national telecast of the Ohio State-Iowa football game will be devoted to an appeal for funds for the California Polytechnic College student memorial fund. The fund was established after the Oct. 29 plane crash in which 18 of the college's football players were killed.

Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., said TV viewers will be asked to donate to the fund, which will be used to help dependent students and to establish a scholarship fund for children of the student-athletes.

Five of the 13 players killed and three of the 19 injured were married. The married players had a total of 10 children.

Byers said the University of Iowa, the host team for the Big Ten game, has arranged for the crowd of more than 60,000 fans to observe a moment of silence in tribute to the California Poly team. The nationwide appeal for funds will follow.

"The tragic loss suffered by Cal Poly is of concern to its sister institutions and to all followers of college football," Byers said. "The NCAA, American Broadcasting Co., and Iowa and Ohio State are pleased to join in this appeal."

Northeast's No. 1 problem will again be the offense, an attack that has produced only six touchdowns this fall. The season opener against Arkansas State is the only occasion the Redskins have been able to score more than one six-pointer.

Quarterback Don Wattigny, halfbacks Cruce and Al Ott and fullback Willie Ragan are the probable backfield starters for the Tribe with Jack Webb slated for work at quarterback, Levy Redden and center Billy McGraw, all hampered by pulled muscles.

Only French and possibly Beaver are expected to be question marks by gametime. Either Nolan or freshman Jim LaCoste is expected to start in French's place.

Gamecocks Test Hungry Indians

Hungry after a long and fruitless road trip, Northeast's Indians hope to feed on Gamecock at 8 o'clock tonight in Brown Stadium.

Tonight's clash with Jacksonville State's Gamecocks will be first for the Tribesmen in Brown Stadium since they licked Northwestern, 7-6, here five weeks ago. The Indians also won their other home game, the 13-6 opener over Arkansas State, but have lost six contests on the road, a situation that makes Northeast pretty glad to be home.

The Gamecocks proved to be pretty tough birds last fall when they whipped Northeast, 27-12, at Jacksonville and should put the Tribe's home winning streak to an exacting test, especially since regular tackle Luther French is not expected to play and several others Indians are nursing minor injuries.

Both teams have similar records. Northeast stands at 2-6 for the campaign and Don Salis' Jacksonville club at 3-3. Northeast's losses have come at the hands of Arlington, 16-0; East Texas State, 13-6; McNeese, 14-5; Southeastern, 26-0; Southwestern, 8-7; and Delta State, 27-0.

Only one team has beaten the Gamecocks decisively, that being Chattanooga, which won a 26-0 decision in the season opener. Since then the Alabama team has beaten Troy State, 21-0; Livingston, 14-7; and Middle Tennessee, 19-0, while falling to Austin Peay, 14-7; East Tennessee, 21-14; Carson-Newman, 7-0, and Florence State last week, 14-7.

The Northeast injured are French, held out of contact this week because of a slight shoulder separation, a halfback Ferdy Cruce, a bad ankle, and guard Perry Beaver, tackle Ross Nolan and center Billy McGraw, all hampered by pulled muscles.

Only French and possibly Beaver are expected to be question marks by gametime. Either Nolan or freshman Jim LaCoste is expected to start in French's place.

Tulsa Club's Fate Clouded By Park Woes

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Lease renewal for Tulsa's Texas League park Friday clouded the city's future in organized baseball.

The Tulsa Exposition and Fair Corp., which controls the park, offered to renew the lease of the Tulsa Oilers Baseball Club, Inc., but under terms it contends will insure the fair and Tulsa County against financial liability.

Club President Grayle Howlett said the offer was made Oct. 19 but no agreement was reached.

Howlett said negotiations have been under way three weeks but added, "The situation from our standpoint is not too promising" because of various terms and conditions.

He said he received at an Oct. 22 league meeting in San Antonio, Tex., permission to move the offer franchise to Albuquerque, N. M., or some other suitable city. Oklahoma City sports circles, he said, also are interested in the club.

Howlett said Albuquerque's Duke City Baseball Club offered a 6,000-seat stadium at a $1 a year rental if the club moved there with its St. Louis Cardinal affiliation.

The Oilers have a temporary lease to the end of the year. Conditions for renewal involve the club's financial affairs, park maintenance, and one per cent of gross receipts.

CROSS COUNTRY

Indian Runners Favored In Howard Payne Event

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (Special)—Louisiana schools are invading Texas Saturday morning for the sixth annual running of the Howard Payne College invitational cross-country track meet, and it looks like the bayou boys may be able to take all the marbles back with them to home stations.

Howard Payne was picked to repeat as the champion of the meet—until some fantastic findings from Northeast Louisiana cropped up. And now, runners from that school are accorded the best chance of annexing the top trophy.

The Louisianians from Monroe—coached by former Abilene High School cinder wizard Bob Groseclose—have already compiled some dazzling marks this year, and appear to outclass the field at the Brownwood meet.

Opposing Northeast Louisiana and Howard Payne in the grueling four-mile race at Brownwood Country Club will be North Texas State College, University of Texas, Hardin-Simmons University, Odessa College, McNeese State College, St. Michael's College of Santa Fe, N. M., and Abilene Christian College.

Favored to win the individual medal is a 39-year-old McNeese freshman, Fred Norris, an English import who has clocked a 13:49 on the three-mile jaunt, and has won five of six meets this season. Among his victims have been such outstanding cross-country names as the University of Houston's Al Lawrence, John Maey and Pat Chohessy. However, McNeese is allowed little chance of winning the meet, since their next four runners are far below Norris' par.

"I've known Bob Groseclose a long time, and have every respect for his track coaching ability," HPC's Cider Boss J. H. (Cap) Shelton said. "And believe me, his charges' timings look like nothing but poison."

Shelton's fears seem well founded. Northeastern freshman Jimmy Ezell has a fine 15:41 timing on a 3.2 mile course, and he's the slowest man on the team. Northeastern's real wheel horses are Buddy Eiland (junior, 14:31.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

'Doubling Up' Causes Conflict Between Sons

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Convenience and economy make it necessary, at times, for children to double up in their rooms.

When children must sleep in the same room who are of different ages and sleeping habits, the results are not ideal.

Mrs. E. S. writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: 'We have two sons, one 4, the other 1 year of age. Ever since the baby was very young, and because the two sleep in the same bedroom, my husband has insisted the baby be taken out of the room when he cries at night. He didn't want the older boy to be disturbed.

"We had a smaller crib in our room, but now it is too small for the baby and if I take him out of the room he shares, we have him in my bed, or in the playpen. I tell my husband the older boy would get used to the noise.

"Also, if he did wake up and lost some sleep, he could make it up next day. I cannot. I feel it is important that I get a good night's sleep. Also, I don't think it is a good idea to keep taking the baby out of his crib.

"He doesn't waken every night. But he does when he has a B. M. or his teeth are bothering him. Otherwise, he is a good-natured, cheerful child. Should I follow my husband's advice, or use my own common sense and let him cry it out, even if he disturbs the boy?"

I don't think you'd have a very good night's sleep if you allowed the baby to cry it out—especially when you know he didn't cry for necessary attention.

I agree with you that taking him out of his crib and into your bed would solidify a habit you might wish you never had started.

So, let us say, both you and your husband are partially right. The baby does need attention when he cries. He had better not be taken out of his crib. So this leaves you with the necessity to give him attention in his crib.

Give him a drink of cool water. If his gums are bothering him. Give him something to chew on. Change his diapers if he has had an accident at night. Soothe him with quiet talk, pat his back or rub it. Give him a toy or two.

The chances are he will go to sleep without waking the older one. If the older boy does awaken, he is old enough to understand your explanations.

As for making up your sleep, there'll always be some time in the day when you can take a half-hour rest period. Even without this night waking, you'd profit by it.

Lake Providence Scene Of Many Events

The Moses Shelby Chapter DAR of which Mrs. J. L. Kennedy is regent, announces that the DAR Good Citizenship Girls have been chosen.

These girls are Dinah Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis of Lake Providence, and Patricia Ann Beam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beam of the Monticello community.

Each year, in a contest sponsored by the DAR, the senior class of the Lake Providence High School nominates a slate of girls, who in their opinion, best typifies these qualities: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. The faculty makes the final decision from the three who receive the largest number of votes.

These girls will participate in a state-wide examination, given along the lines of civics and American history. The state winner will receive a $100 bond and there will also be a $25 bond for second, third and fourth places. The first place winner will be eligible to compete on a national basis.

Fashion-Conscious Should Watch 'Old' Movies

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

T.V. holds few charms for me, but to one weakness I confess. I can't resist its movies.

I don't mean those post-1948 movies, over whose recentness each station crows when it can get hold of one. I mean the vintage items that sometimes are as old as 1932 and never, never younger than 1948.

They fascinate me because they are a collective museum of fashion, and a unique one. Here for the first time in history are preserved women walking, talking, living lives in the fashions, hairdos and makeup of their period.

It beats any sketch, painting or photograph. It beats the costumes figures of First Ladies in the Smithsonian. It does so because the movie reflects all classes of women, not just the few wealthy ones who are fashion leaders in their times.

Of course, the viewer has to be careful in front of old movies. Hollywood of the Thirties and Forties had a penchant for putting working girls into penthouses and giving them wardrobes by Adrian. But even Hollywood's dream world had fashion reality.

For those were the days, almost unbelievable now, when movies were as big a fashion influence as Paris, and sometimes bigger. On TV you can see Constance Bennett in the little black dress with Peter Pan collar that swept America, and is still with us.

Or here comes Joan Crawford, who spans the last 30 years. One night you can catch her in a 1931 item where she is wearing a knee-high beaded sheath that doesn't look so odd right now. She looks odd, in fact, in "Lety Lynton" of around 1935. Yet the bias-cut organdy sheath with the huge ruffled sleeves that Adrian created for that picture was probably the single most popular dress ever created.

Hemlines in old movies are a positive symphony of movement. In the earliest ones you see the very high hemlines, or the high in front, down in back hems for evening gowns that preceded the big drop in the Thirties. Hemlines throughout movies of the Thirties flop almost to the ankles, looking impossibly dowdy just now, because we're all wearing them high again. And how overdecorated the evening gowns look!

Bias cuts then were really bias, with every dress clinging like a second skin. Fabrics were mixed in set-in pieces with such a lavish hand, one is forcibly reminded that those were depression years when labor came cheap.

Movies of the wartime Forties look funnier, however. Fabric shortages brought hemlines back up to the knees and gave designers little to work with. All the dresses look like house dresses. All the suits have shoulders padded like football uniforms.

One wonders how women in the Forties could possibly have thought that shoulder-strap bags, shoulder-length bobs and floppy-brimmed hats looked well with those skimpy clothes, but that's what they wore.

Those old movies are a wonderful education in changing fashions. Before your eyes, if you're old enough, are the modes which, over the better part of a lifetime, you enthusiastically adopted at one time or another. If they look so antique, or so downright ugly now, what about what you're wearing as you watch them?

Mer Rouge GC Has Mrs. Lewis For Speaker

"The art of making attractive floral arrangements suited for church and home" was demonstrated by Mrs. J. P. Lewis of West Monroe when the Mer Rouge Garden Club held its regular meeting Thursday, November 3, in the Educational Annex of the Baptist Church.

A vertical arrangement of roses appropriate for a church and another arrangement of lavender chrysanthemums for a dinner table, were shown by Mrs. Lewis.

Guests from the Clarklea Garden Club in Bastrop, extended and invitation to club members for a tour of five homes featuring

Demo Opposes Liberal Changes In House Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Howard W. Smith of the powerful House Rules Committee said Friday he would oppose any attempt by the liberal wing of the Democratic party to weaken his committee's control over legislation.

The conservative Virginia Democrat told United Press International he was "not in favor" of any change in the Rules Committee; that it was "all right as it is."

President-elect John F. Kennedy told a press conference in Hyannis Port, Mass. Thursday that the rules of the House are "a matter of judgment for the House, and the members of the House will have to judge what these rules should be."

But the Democratic platform, adopted last July in Los Angeles, called for a change in the rules so "that bills reported by legislative committees reach the floor for consideration without delay."

And reports from Texas indicate that Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson favors an attempt to relax the committee's tight grip over various legislative programs.

The Rules Committee, which acts as a traffic policeman in routing legislation to the floor for House consideration, has been under attack from some congressional liberals who have accused it of bottling up important legislation.

They believe a lessening of its control is essential if a number of the Democratic proposals are to become law.

Lamb and vegetable casserole is an easy - to - make one-dish meal. Cook 1 pound of ground lamb over low heat, stirring occasionally, until browned. Drain drippings. Combine the meat with a 10-ounce package of frozen mixed vegetables, thawed, salt and pepper to taste, and a 10½-ounce can of condensed tomato soup. Arrange in a greased 1½-quart casserole, top with 2 cups of seasoned mashed potatoes, and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Serves 4.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Criticism Is Unwelcome From Mother-In-Law

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to have an awful lot to say against mothers-in-law. You probably drew a pill. I hope you'll print the other side.

My son married an empty-headed little nothing who doesn't know anything about keeping house, cooking or rearing children. When an appliance breaks it just sits there. Her vacuum cleaner isn't working, her toaster cord is frayed and she has borrowed my iron every Tuesday for three months.

Her whole house looks like Fibber McGee's closet. I've seen her kids with the same jam on their faces for two days straight. When I try to tell her how to do things she runs to my son and says I'm "butting in." Am I? —OTHER SIDE

Dear Other: Well, yes. However well-intentioned the criticism, it's unwelcome—and this constitutes butting in.

Of course it's difficult for a mother to sit by and watch all this, but under the circumstances, the best thing you can do is to leave her alone.

(P. S. I hate to spoil your theory, but my own mother-in-law is a gem. Twenty-one years and not a single "suggestion.")

Dear Ann Landers: When Jake married me, I was a widow with four children. I told him he was taking on a big load but he said he knew it and didn't care. He was wonderful to the kids and they were crazy about him.

Now, after a year, he's beginning to complain about the high cost of the kids' shoes, haircuts, the grocery bill and the dentist's charges for braces. He thinks P. T. A. dues are a racket and I have to explain to him where every penny goes.

He makes $150 a week and manages to save a little out of every check, so it isn't as if we are terribly hard up. We own this house and don't owe anybody anything. What can I say to a man like this? —SPEECHLESS

Dear Speechless: Tell him that he married you with eyes wide open so now he can shut his mouth.

Of course kids' shoes cost money. Are adults' shoes free? And braces are expensive, and so are groceries and I can name a long list of other things. But what did he think marriage with a ready-made family was going to be like?

(P. S. It's no cheaper when you make your own!)

No woman should have to account for every penny and beg for a few dollars to spend as she chooses. This is a matter of personal dignity. Tell the guy he has a lot to be thankful for and to quit bellyaching.

Dear Ann: My boy friend gave me a bracelet for my birthday. He said it was gold. My wrist turns green every time I wear that bracelet. My girl friend says good jewelry doesn't turn the skin green, and that my boy friend gave me a cheap present. True or false? —MARIETTA

Dear Marietta: False. Your body chemistry may well be to blame. Some people, because of an abundance of certain acids in the system, get green marks from a variety of metals which touch the skin.

Dear Ann Landers: I have to write this letter or flip my lid. I boiled over when I read the attacks on you by lazy women who don't want to pick up after their husbands. May I have a few inches of newspaper space to say something in behalf of those of us who think you are right—that picking up after a husband is part of being a decent wife.

I've known women who knock themselves out for organizations. They run to meetings, spend hours on the telephone, bake like crazy for church bazaars and haul tons of rummage in their cars. But when it comes to doing something extra for their own family, they scream like wounded elk.

A woman's basic satisfactions should come from her home. If these dames don't think so, why did they marry? —A REAL WIFE

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for "Ann Landers' Is It Love Or Sex?" booklet. Enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nigerian Women Will Appear In Public Places

Nigerian independence has given a tremendous boost to women's emancipation in the country's predominantly Muslim northern region.

Girls in the vast spaces of the North who have lived for years in Islamic seclusion are now getting out and about in the world of men.

A Lagos newspaper columnist says Northern women are now getting ready "to work side by side with their men for the progress of our newly born nation. Gone are the days when they were content to leave all the work to the menfolk."

More and more Northern women are taking up teaching, nursing and office work which previously were closed to them. One has made history by becoming the first Northern girl to be appointed assistant manager of a busy Government - financed hotel. Previously women of the North would seldom have been seen in public in a hotel before independence was proclaimed on Oct. 1.

DEAR ABBY

Small Towns Usually Offer Less 'Freedom'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our pastor's wife which (if either) he selects.

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with Russell for three months. He's a wonderful guy but he was tagged for speeding twice and was cited for three other traffic violations in the past six weeks. He had his license taken away from him but he drives anyway. My Dad found out about it and made me break up with him. I don't think this was fair. Wouldn't it be punishment enough to forbid me to ride with him? I am 16 and Russ is 17. —RUSS' GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I agree with your dad. How "wonderful" could a guy be who continually breaks the law, has his license revoked but drives anyway? He's bad news. Stay away from him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a size 12. My sister should be a size 12, too, but she is a size 14. She is always "going on a diet tomorrow." Last January she admired a dress of mine, so I gave it to her hoping it would be an incentive to stick to her diet. She seemed delighted with the idea, accepted the dress and promised she'd stick to her diet this time.

Well, she's had the dress for nine months, and instead of losing weight, she's gained. The dress has been hanging in her closet and I would like to wear it this winter. How can I get it back without hurting her feelings? —SIZE 12

DEAR SIZE 12: Ask her if she would mind letting you wear the dress until she is able to wear it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Married to a Mamma's Boy": Don't send him back to his Mamma to "grow up" — he will only grow "away" from you. Raise him with the children.

Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, says that the current increase of 50 million people each year represents much too rapid a growth for the world's resources.

In the bureau's annual report, he also said that universal understanding of the population problem is the first step toward lower birth rates. He said that time is crucial because mounting population pressure could defeat the hope of a better life among millions in underdeveloped areas.

Fashion-Conscious Should Watch 'Old' Movies

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

T.V. holds few charms for me, but to its weakness I confess, I can't resist its movies.

I don't mean those post-1948 movies, over whose recentness each station crows when it can get hold of one. I mean the vintage items that sometimes are as old as 1932 and never, never younger than 1940.

They fascinate me because they are a collective museum of fashion, and a unique one. Here for the first time in history are preserved women walking, talking, living lives in the fashions, hairdos and makeup of their period.

It beats any sketch, painting or photograph. It beats the costumes figures of First Ladies in the Smithsonian. It does so because the movie reflects all classes of women, not just the few wealthy ones who are fashion leaders in their times.

Of course, the viewer has to be careful in front of old movies. Hollywood of the Thirties and Forties had a penchant for putting working girls into penthouses and giving them wardrobes by Adrian. But even Hollywood's dream world had fashion reality.

For those were the days, almost unbelievable now, when movies were as big a fashion influence as Paris, and sometimes bigger. On TV you can see Constance Bennett in the little black dress with Peter Pan collar that swept America, and is still with us.

Or here comes Joan Crawford, who spans the last 30 years. One night you can catch her in a 1931 item where she is wearing a knee-high beaded sheath that doesn't look so odd right now. She looks odd, in fact, in "Letty Lynton" of around 1935. Yet the bias-cut organdy sheath with the huge ruffled sleeves that Adrian created for that picture was probably the single most popular dress ever created.

Hemlines in old movies are a positive symphony of movement. In the earliest ones you see the very high hemlines, or the high in front, down in back hems for evening gowns that preceded the big drop in the Thirties.

Hemlines throughout movies of the Thirties flop almost to the ankles, looking impossibly dowdy just now, because we're all wearing them high again. And how overdecorated the evening gowns look!

Bias cuts then were really bias, with every dress clinging like a second skin. Fabrics were mixed in set-in pieces with such a lavish hand, one is forcibly reminded that those were depression years when labor came cheap.

Movies of the wartime Forties look funnier, however. Fabric shortages brought hemlines back up to the knees and gave designers little to work with. All the dresses look like house dresses. All the suits have shoulders padded like football uniforms.

One wonders how women in the Forties could possibly have thought that shoulder-strap bags, brimmed hats looked well with those skimpy clothes, but that's what they wore.

Those old movies are a wonderful education in changing fashions. Before your eyes, if you're old enough, are the modes which over the better part of a lifetime, you enthusiastically adopted at wearing as you watch them?

one time, or another. If they look so antique, or so downright ugly now, what about what you're wearing as you watch them?

YOUR BABY AND MINE

'Doubling Up' Causes Conflict Between Sons

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Convenience and economy make it necessary, at times, for children to double up in their rooms.

When children must sleep in the same room who are of different ages and sleeping habits, the results are not ideal.

Mrs. E. S. writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: We have two sons, one 4, the other 1 year of age. Ever since the baby was very young, and because the two sleep in the same bedroom, my husband has insisted the baby be taken out of the room when he cries at night. He didn't want the older boy to be disturbed.

"We had a smaller crib in our room, but now it is too small for the baby and if I take him out of the room he shares, we have him in my bed, or in the playpen. I tell my husband the older boy would get used to the noise.

"Also, if he did wake up and lost some sleep, he could make it up next day. I cannot. I feel it is important that I get a good night's sleep. Also, I don't think it is a good idea to keep taking the baby out of his crib.

"He doesn't waken every night. But he does when he has a B. M. or his teeth are bothering him. Otherwise, he is a good-natured, cheerful child. Should I follow my husband's advice, or use my own common sense and let him cry it out, even if he disturbs the boy?"

I don't think you'd have a very good night's sleep if you allowed the baby to cry it out—especially when you know he didn't cry for necessary attention.

I agree with you that taking him out of his crib and into your bed would solidify a habit you might wish you never had started.

So, let us say, both you and your husband are partially right. The baby does need attention when he cries. He had better not be taken out of his crib. So this leaves you with the necessity to give him attention in his crib.

Give him a drink of cool water, if his gums are bothering him. Give him something to chew on. Change his diapers if he has had an accident at night. Soothe him with quiet talk, pat his back or rub it. Give him a toy or two.

The chances are he will go to sleep without waking the older one. If the older boy does awaken, he is old enough to understand your explanations.

As for making up your sleep, there'll always be some time in the day when you can take a half-hour rest period. Even without this night waking, you'd profit by it.

British Crack Down On Nudity In Night Clubs

LONDON (UPI)—Britain began cracking down Friday on "suggestive nudity" in night clubs in a move to restore London's good name and get rid of the tourist traps that gave it a bad one.

The crackdown is connected with a blitz on illicit gambling joints, underworld hangouts and a liberalization of the liquor laws the daily mail hailed as a move to "make Britain a more civilized place."

A bill introduced in Parliament by Home Secretary R. A. Butler makes "suggestive nudity" a cause for closing a strip-tease club or theater. With it is a requirement that clubs serving liquor must renew their licenses every year.

When it becomes law this winter Scotland Yard will have the weapon it has sought for years to control the clubs in the alleys of Soho and the East End, some of which were lightly-veiled hangouts for criminals and the site of illicit gambling.

Under the present law these dives can reopen almost as soon as they are closed simply by changing the name and installing a dummy manager. The new bill gives the courts the right to forbid the use of the building as a club premises.

4 DIE IN ACCIDENT

Injured Children Hike Three Miles

SAN ANDREAS, Calif. (AP) — Two injured children climbed a 200-foot cliff and hiked three miles to their home Thursday night to report their brother and three sisters killed in an automobile accident.

Michael Ray Barber, 9, and Melinda Gael Barber, 12, were in fair condition at Mark Twain Hospital. So was their mother, Mary Viola Barber, 40, and three other injured youngsters.

Mrs. Barber was driving a station wagon, containing 10 members of her family, when it went over a cliff at 6 p.m. Thursday on a winding road about 10 miles north of San Andreas.

The car fell 200 feet into a canyon, landing partly submerged in the Mokelumne River. The injured and dead were strewn over the rocks and in the water.

Killed were a son and three daughters of Mrs. Barber: Jeanette Faye Barber Osley, 22; Judy Dianna Barber, 16; Pamela

Denise Barber, 11, and Jerry Barber, 14.

In fair condition in the hospital with Mrs. Barber, Michael and Melinda, were: Connie Sue Barber, 6; Rhonda Kim Barber, 3, and Claude Ray Osley Jr., 4, grandson of Mrs. Barber and son of Mrs. Osley.

Patrolman Norman Howell said it was "almost a miracle" that Michael and Melinda were able to climb the 200-foot cliff and walk three miles in their injured condition.

The children reported the accident to their father, Noble Barber, and his son-in-law, Claude Osley Sr.

Demo Opposes Liberal Changes In House Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Howard W. Smith of the powerful House Rules Committee said Friday he would oppose any attempt by the liberal wing of the Democratic party to weaken his committee's control over legislation.

The conservative Virginia Democrat told United Press International he was "not in favor" of any change in the Rules Committee; that it was "all right as it is."

President-elect John F. Kennedy told a press conference in Hyannis Port, Mass., Thursday that the rules of the House are "a matter of judgment for the House, and the members of the House will have to judge what these rules should be."

But the Democratic platform, adopted last July in Los Angeles, called for a change in the rules so "that bills reported by legislative committees reach the floor for consideration without delay."

And reports from Texas indicate that Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson favors an attempt to relax the committee's tight grip over various legislative programs.

The Rules Committee, which acts as a traffic policeman in routing legislation to the floor for House consideration, has been under attack from some congressional liberals who have accused it of bottling up important legislation.

They believe a lessening of its control is essential if a number of the Democratic proposals are to become law.

Combination

Lamb and vegetable casserole is an easy - to - make one-dish meal. Cook 1 pound of ground lamb over low heat, stirring occasionally, until browned. Drain drippings. Combine the meat with a 10-ounce package of frozen mixed vegetables, thawed, salt and pepper to taste, and a 10-ounce can of condensed tomato soup. Arrange in a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole, top with 2 cups of seasoned mashed potatoes, and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Serves 4.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Criticism Is Unwelcome From Mother-In-Law

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to have an awful lot to say against mothers-in-law. You probably drew a pill. I hope you'll print the other side.

My son married an empty-headed little nothing who doesn't know anything about keeping house, cooking or rearing children. When an appliance breaks it just sits there. Her vacuum cleaner isn't working, her toaster cord is frayed and she has borrowed my iron every Tuesday for three months.

Her whole house looks like Fibber McGee's closet. I've seen her kids with the same jam on their faces for two days straight. When I try to tell her how to do things she runs to my son and says I'm "butting in." Am I? —OTHER SIDE

Dear Other: Well, yes. However well-intentioned the criticism, it's unwelcome—and this constitutes butting in.

Of course it's difficult for a mother to sit by and watch all this, but under the circumstances, the best thing you can do is to leave her alone.

(P. S. I hate to spoil your theory, but my own mother-in-law is a gem. Twenty-one years and not a single "suggestion.")

Dear Ann Landers: When Jake married me, I was a widow with four children. I told him he was taking on a big load but he said he knew it and didn't care. He was wonderful to the kids and they were crazy about him.

Now, after a year, he's beginning to complain about the high cost of the kids' shoes, haircuts, the grocery bill and the dentist's charges for braces. He thinks P. T. A. dues are a racket and I have to explain to him where every penny goes.

He makes $150 a week and manages to save a little out of every check, so it isn't as if we are terribly hard up. We own this house and don't owe anybody anything. What can I say to a man like this? —SPEECHLESS

Dear Speechless: Tell him that he married you with eyes wide open so now he can shut his mouth.

Of course kids' shoes cost money. Are adults' shoes free? And braces are expensive, and so are groceries and I can name a long list of other things. But what did he think marriage with a ready-made family was going to be like?

(P. S. It's no cheaper when you make your own.)

No woman should have to account for every penny and beg for a few dollars to spend as she chooses. This is a matter of personal dignity. Tell the guy he has a lot to be thankful for and to quit bellyaching.

Dear Ann: My boy friend gave me a bracelet for my birthday. He said it was gold. My wrist turns green every time I wear that bracelet. My girl friend says good jewelry doesn't turn the skin green, and that my boy friend gave me a cheap present. True or false? —MARIETTA

Dear Marietta: False. Your body chemistry may well be blame. Some people, because of an abundance of certain acids in the system, get green marks from a variety of metals which touch the skin.

Dear Ann Landers: I have to write this letter or flip my lid. I boiled over when I read the attacks on you by lazy women who don't want to pick up after their husbands. May I have a few inches of newspaper space to say something in behalf of those of us who think you are right—that picking up after a husband is part of being a decent wife.

I've known women who knock themselves out for organizations. They run to meetings, spend hours on the telephone, bake like crazy for church bazaars and haul tons of rummage in their cars. But when it comes to doing something extra for their own family, they scream like wounded elk.

A woman's basic satisfactions should come from her home. If these dames don't think so, why did they marry? —A REAL WIFE

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Small Towns Usually Offer Less 'Freedom'

DEAR ABBY: Our pastor's wife which (if either) he selects.

died a few months ago and the whole town is running after him to help him replace her. He's in his early fifties and seems interested in a pretty little school teacher who is 33. She has never been married and would make him a good wife. The problem is she has an older sister who has never been married, either. She is 38 and gives piano lessons. The 33'er wants this pastor very much, but I think the pastor prefers the 33'er. I'm sure the 33'er would grab the pastor fast if her sister weren't in the running. The town is divided. Who should get him? Some say the 33'er, as it may be her last chance. We'd like your opinion. —FRIEND OF BOTH

DEAR FRIENDS: The town should stay out of it. The pastor should court whom he wishes. And the sisters should wait to see

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with Russell for three months. He's a wonderful guy but he was tagged for speeding twice and was cited for three other traffic violations in the past six weeks. He had his license taken away from him but he drives anyway. My Dad found out about it and made me break up with him. I don't think this was fair. Wouldn't it be punishment enough to forbid me to ride with him? I am 16 and Russ is 17. —RUSS' GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I agree with your dad. How "wonderful" could a guy be who continually breaks the law, has his license revoked but drives anyway? He's bad news. Stay away from him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a size 12. My sister should be a size 12, too, but she is a size 14. She is always "going on a diet tomorrow." Last January she admired a dress of mine, so I gave it to her hoping it would be an incentive to stick to her diet. She seemed delighted with the idea, accepted the dress and promised she'd stick to her diet this time.

Well, she's had the dress for nine months, and instead of losing weight, she's gained. The dress has been hanging in her closet and I would like to wear it this winter. How can I get it back without hurting her feelings? —SIZE 12

DEAR SIZE 12: Ask her if she would mind letting you wear the dress until she is able to wear it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Married to a Mamma's Boy": Don't send him back to his Mamma to "grow up" — he will only grow "away" from you. Raise him with the children.

Birth Boom

Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, says that the current increase of 50 million people each year represents much too rapid a growth for the world's resources.

In the bureau's annual report, he also said that universal understanding of the population problem is the first step toward lower birth rates. He said that time is crucial because mounting population pressure could defeat the hope of a better life among millions in underdeveloped areas.

Nigerian Women Will Appear In Public Places

Nigerian independence has given a tremendous boost to women's emancipation in the country's predominantly Muslim northern region.

Girls in the vast spaces of the North who have lived for years in Islamic seclusion are now getting out and about in the world of men.

A Lagos newspaper columnist says Northern women are now getting ready "to work side by side with their men for the progress of our newly born nation. Gone are the days when they were content to leave all the work to the menfolk."

More and more Northern women are taking up teaching, nursing and office work which previously were closed to them. One has made history by becoming the first Northern girl to be appointed assistant manager of a busy Government-financed hotel. Previously women of the North would seldom have been seen in public in a hotel before independence was proclaimed on Oct. 1.

Chances Slim On Electoral College End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said Friday there is only a slim chance at best that Congress will abolish the Electoral College system despite the close presidential race between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon.

Smathers is one of several senators who to push for an end to the Electoral College system and proposed other changes in the procedure for electing a president. But Smathers saw little or no hope of success.

"We can pass it in the Senate anytime," he said, "but it can't get by the House. There are too many votes from the big cities there."

Smathers joined Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., in criticizing the present system in which the candidate carrying any state gets all its electoral votes—no matter how small his margin of victory.

The two senators want the president chosen on the basis of the popular vote. Smathers said the electoral college gives the big cities too much power in the elections and completely wipes out the votes of those who backed the losing candidate within a state.

Kennedy told a news conference Thursday he would not propose any "major overhaul" in the Electoral College. But it was said here that he might look with favor on abolishing the system outright.

A Kennedy aide said the President-elect strongly opposed changes in the electoral college which would give each candidate a proportion of the state's electoral vote based on a percentage of the popular vote he received.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 25 cents a bale higher to 45 cents lower Friday.

Freezing temperatures in some sections of the cotton belt attracted early buying to current crop months. The low temperatures raised the possibility of further damage to the cotton crop.

Some of the new crop months which led the earlier brisk market advance this week declined on commission house selling.

Stock Prices Go Down In Dull Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — The string ran out on the stock market Friday as prices gave ground for the first time in nine sessions.

Virtually all the industrial groups were lower with most of the upside action concentrated among the retail chains and some apparel manufacturers.

The session was comparatively dull with volume off sharply as a result of the Veteran's Day holiday and the number of issues traded shrinking to 1,163, the least since Sept. 22.

The Dow-Jones industrial average dipped 3.40 to 606.61, rails lost 0.29 to 129.46 and utilities were nicked for 0.03 to 93.58. Volume came to 2,730,000 shares against 4,030,000 on Thursday.

Declines outnumbered advances by 532 to 434 with 197 holding unchanged. Ten new highs were recorded against 6 new lows.

One optimistic note in the business background, a 2 per cent gain in October retail sales, produced a general rise in the store section with Sears, Roebuck up 1/2, Woolworth ahead 1/2, American Stores 1/4 and S. H. Kress up 2/8.

Several apparel and furniture manufacturers also claimed gains — Simmons 1 1/2, Kayser-Roth 1 1/2, among them. It acquired a small apparel-maker, and Adams - Mills 2 1/4.

Among the industrials, steels were down a point or more for U.S. Steel, Youngstown and Jones & Laughlin. There was a report that operations in the Youngstown area would dip slightly next week. Motors fell as much as 1/2 in American and 1/4 in Ford. DuPont, up 8 1/2 Thursday, lost 2 1/2 to pace a soft chemical section.

Electronics, oils, drugs and aircrafts all dipped slightly.

Kaiser-Roth with 47,500 shares led the most active list and was followed by Universal Match off 1/2, Boeing off 1/4, Tel. & Tel. off 1/2 and Lionel off 1/4.

Stocks on the American Exchange Friday were mostly mixed in active trading.

Sapphire Petroleum led the market in turnover, trading on big blocks, the largest of which was 16,000 shares at 1/2 unchanged.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market topped at $18.50 a hundredweight Friday the highest peak in almost a month on an advance of 25-30 cents a hundredweight.

The supply of 3,500 head was the smallest for a Friday since Sept. 2 and shipper demand again was good in a moderately active trade. A few 195-215 lb offerings brought a peak while buyers paid $18.00-18.25 for the 190-240 lb mixed 1-2 and 1-3 grades. All other weights and grades, mostly mixed, moved at $17.75-19.10. Sows sold up to $16.50.

No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. A few utility and commercial bulls brought $16.50-19.25.

In a steady sheep market, good and choice slaughter lambs sold at $15.00-17.50, ewes $4.00-5.00.

LEAVES FAMILY BEHIND

Kennedy To Take Florida Vacation

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy took off for Palm Beach, Fla., Friday to rest and get on with the business of organizing his administration.

A crowd of several thousand people cheered the Massachusetts senator at the airport.

Kennedy — guarded by Secret Service agents since his election — broke away from the guard to walk along the airport fence and shake hands with well-wishers.

He told newsmen he wants and needs a rest, and is looking forward to the Florida sunshine.

Kennedy boarded his private plane with his expectant wife, Jacqueline, and their daughter, Caroline, 3. The plane is named for Caroline. She brought along her pet Welsh terrier, Charlie.

Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline flew with Kennedy to Washington, where she will stay. Kennedy will join his wife before the baby is born. The baby is expected in about three weeks.

Kennedy's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was at the airport to say goodbye.

The president-elect told a reporter he plans to return to Hyannis Port to spend the Thanksgiving holiday.

Kennedy replied to messages from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Adenauer, in a message of congratulations, had wired Kennedy: "It is my firm wish that you and statesmen of like mind will soon find a way to open a path for controlled disarmament, and thereby finally to give the world a genuine firm and lasting peace."

Kennedy messaged back: "I am grateful for your warm and generous message. You have been an indomitable leader of the free world and look forward to working with you in the years ahead, and certainly agree with you that the achievement of controlled disarmament is a necessity to guarantee world peace."

Macmillan's message, the second he has sent Kennedy since his election victory, was hand-delivered by D'Arcy Edmondson, British consul general in Boston. The letter said in part that Kennedy "will be taking the most powerful position in the world with responsibility matched by equal opportunity."

Kennedy wired back "I know that our two great countries will work together in the future as they have in the past to further the cause of freedom throughout the world."

Macmillan earlier had wired congratulations, as did numerous other heads of state.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market hit bottom hard Friday in corn, oats and rye futures while soybeans and old crop wheat contracts attracted strong support and moved well ahead.

Setbacks ran from major fractions in corn to a cent or more in oats and rye. Nearly all deliveries in the three pits slumped to new lows for the season while corn in the cash market sank to its lowest price in 18 years.

The No. 2 grade yellow corn sold as low as $1.01 a bushel in the cash trade, down 1 1/2 cents from the previous day and off about 15 cents from a year ago.

At the close, wheat was 1 cent a bushel higher to 1 1/4 lower, December $1.99 1/2-2.00; corn 1/4-1/2 lower, December $1.05 1/2-1.06 1/2; rye 1/2-1 cent lower, December $1.13 1/2-1.14; soybeans 1/4-1/2 higher, November $2.16 1/4-1.15.

McDermott Is Council Head For Scouts

Frank K. McDermott has been named chairman of the Central District, Ouachita Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, for a second year. The action was taken at a recent meeting of the district committee.

Serving as vice chairman during the coming year will be G. A. Waschka and Amos Hood.

Following the appointment of the co-chairmen, McDermott assigned each of the men to oversee the activities of four committees. Waschka will be in charge of leadership and training, Boys' Life, publicity and organization and extension.

Hood will coordinate the work of the advancement, camping and activities, finance, and health and safety committees.

Selected district commissioner for the coming year is E. D. Slaughter, who succeeds J. Frank Kirby.

In addition, McDermott appointed the following chairmen to various committees: Advancement, Hollis C. Fant; camping and activities, W. W. Stevens; finance, H. M. James; health and safety, Sam Blackwell; leadership and training, J. W. Walters; Boys' Life, Charles Anderson; publicity, Bill Hardin; and organization and extension, G. A. Waschka.

Nominated to service as district members — at large were: Robert D. Wood, Paul Brooks, Oscar Speed, Glen Flemming, Al Adair, Jimmy Rivers, Sam Blackwell, Bill Feazel, Jack Bagwell, Wood Sers, Sylvester Beard, Charles Anderson, Forrest Blount, John Black, Eugene Cahn, Henry W. Will Observe Rule

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's international film festival reserves the right to bar films "insulting to the national feeling and dignity" of some nations.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the rule would be observed in selecting entries for the second Moscow international film festival next July.

FRANK VOELKER, JR., State Sovereignty Commission chairman enters his headquarters at the state capitol Friday. Voelker told newsmen he "had no idea" what a Sunday meeting of the legislature would involve. British Crack Down On Nudity In Night Clubs

LONDON (UPI) — Britain began cracking down Friday on "suggestive nudity" in night clubs in a move to restore London's good name and get rid of the tourist traps that gave it a bad one.

The crackdown is connected with a blitz on illicit gambling joints, underworld hangouts and a liberalization of the liquor laws the daily mail hailed as a move to "make Britain a more civilized place."

A bill introduced in Parliament by Home Secretary R. A. Butler makes "suggestive nudity" a cause for closing a strip-tease club or theater. With it is a requirement that clubs serving liquor must renew their licenses every year.

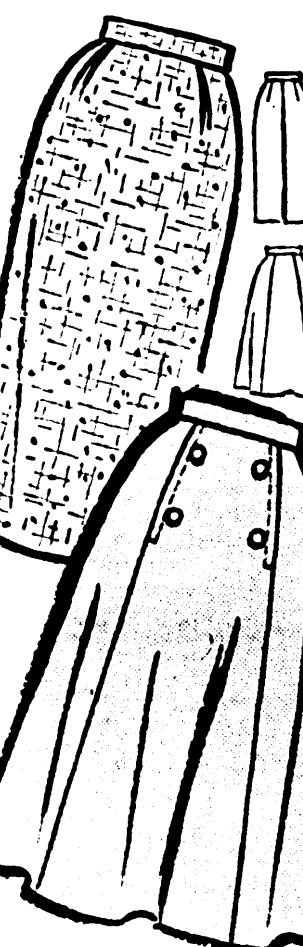

When it becomes law this winter Scotland Yard will have the weapon it has sought for years to control the clubs in the alleys of Soho and the East End, some of which were lightly-veiled hangouts for criminals and the site of illicit gambling.

Under the present law these dives can reopen almost as soon as they are closed simply by changing the name and installing a dummy manager. The new bill gives the courts the right to forbid the use of the building as a club premises.

A new betting law which comes into force after New Year's day also will legalize gambling under certain restrictions and night club "king" John Mills, owner of the new Milroy club, predicted "London will now rival the casinos of the continent as a gambling center."

4 DIE IN ACCIDENT

Injured Children Hike Three Miles

SAN ANDREAS, Calif. (AP) — Two injured children climbed a 200-foot cliff and hiked three miles to their home Thursday night to report their brother and three sisters killed in an automobile accident.

Michael Ray Barber, 9, and Melinda Gael Barber, 12, were in fair condition at Mark Twain Hospital. So was their mother, Mary Viola Barber, 40, and three other injured youngsters.

Mrs. Barber was driving a station wagon, containing 10 members of her family, when it went over a cliff at 6 p.m. Thursday on a winding road about 10 miles north of San Andreas.

The car fell 200 feet into a canyon, landing partly submerged in the Mokelumne River. The injured and dead were strewn over the rocks and in the water.

Killed were a son and three daughters of Mrs. Barber: Jeanette Faye Barber, 22; Pamela

Denise Barber, 11, and Jerry Barber, 14.

In fair condition in the hospital with Mrs. Barber, Michael and Melinda, were: Connie Sue Barber, 6; Rhonda Kim Barber, 3, and Claude Ray Osley Jr., 4, grandson of Mrs. Barber and son of Mrs. Osley.

Patrolman Norman Howell said it was "almost a miracle" that Michael and Melinda were able to climb the 200-foot cliff and walk three miles in their injured condition.

The children reported the accident to their father, Noble Barber, and his son-in-law, Claude Osley Sr.

Chances Slim On Electoral College End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said Friday there is only a slim chance at best that Congress will abolish the Electoral College system despite the close presidential race between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon.

Smathers is one of several senators who push for an end to the Electoral College system and proposed other changes in the procedure for electing a president. But Smathers saw little or no hope of success.

"We can pass it in the Senate anytime," he said, "but it can't get by the House. There are too many votes from the big cities there."

Smathers joined Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., in criticizing the present system in which the candidate carrying any state gets all its electoral votes—no matter how small the margin of victory.

The two senators want the president chosen on the basis of the popular vote. Smathers said the electoral college gives the big cities too much power in the elections and completely wipes out the votes of those who backed the losing candidate within a state.

Kennedy told a news conference Thursday he would not propose any "major overhaul" in the Electoral College. But it was said here that he might look with favor on abolishing the system outright.

A Kennedy aide said the President-elect strongly opposed changes in the electoral college which would give each candidate a proportion of the state's electoral vote based on a percentage of the popular vote he received.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 25 cents a bale higher to 65 cents lower Friday.

Freezing temperatures in some sections of the cotton belt attracted early buying to current crop months. The low temperatures raised the possibility of further damage to the cotton crop.

Some of the new crop months which led the earlier brisk market advance this week declined on commission house selling.

Stock Prices Go Down In Dull Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — The string ran out on the stock market Friday as prices gave ground for the first time in nine sessions.

Virtually all the industrial groups were lower with most of the upside action concentrated among the retail chains and some apparel manufacturers.

The session was comparatively dull with volume off sharply as a result of the Veterans' Day holiday and the number of issues traded shrinking to 1,163, the least since Sept. 22.

The Dow-Jones industrial average dipped 3.40 to 608.03, rails lost 0.20 to 120.03 and utilities were nicked for 0.03 to 93.50. Volume came to 2,700,000 shares against 4,030,000 on Thursday.

Declines outnumbered advances by 532 to 434 with 197 holding unchanged. Ten new highs were recorded against 6 new lows.

One optimistic note in the business background, a 2 per cent gain in October retail sales, produced a general rise in the shoe section with Sears, Roebuck up 1/4, Woolworth ahead 1/2, American Stores 1 1/4 and S. H. Kress up 2 1/4.

Several apparel and furniture manufacturers also claimed gains. Simmons 1 1/4, Kayser-Roth 1 1/4, news it acquired a small apparel-maker, and Adams - Millis 2 1/4.

Among the industrials, steels were down a point or more for U.S. Steel, Youngstown and Jones & Laughlin. There was a report that operations in the Youngstown area would dip slightly next week. Motors fell as much as 1/2 in American and 3/4 in Ford. DuPont, up 8 1/4 Thursday, lost 2 1/2 to pace a soft chemical section.

Electronics, oils, drugs and aircrafts all dipped slightly.

Kayser-Roth with 47,500 shares led the most active list and was followed by Universal Match off 1/4, Boeing off 3/4, Tel. Corp. off 1/4 and Lionel off 1/4.

Stocks on the American Exchange Friday were mostly mixed in active trading.

Sapphire Petroleum led the market in turnover, trading on big blocks, the largest of which was 16,000 shares at 1/2 unchanged.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market topped at $18.50 a hundredweight Friday the highest peak in almost a month on an advance of 25-30 cents a hundredweight.

The supply of 3,500 head was the smallest for a Friday since Sept. 2 and shipper demand again was good in a moderately active trade. A few 195-215 lb offerings brought the peak while buyers paid $18.00-18.35 for the 190-240 lb mixed 1-2 and 1-3 grades. All other weights and grades, mostly mixed, moved at $17.75-19.10. Sox sold up to $16.50.

No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. A few utility and commercial bulls brought $16.50-19.25.

In a steady sheep market, hogs and choice slaughter lambs sold at $15.00-17.50, ewes $10.00-5.00.

Kennedy To Take Florida Vacation

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy took off for Palm Beach, Fla., Friday to rest and get on with the business of organizing his administration.

A crowd of several thousand people cheered the Massachusetts senator at the airport.

Kennedy — guarded by Secret Service agents since his election — broke away from the guard to walk along the airport fence and shake hands with well-wishers.

He told newsmen he wants and needs a rest, and is looking forward to the Florida sunshine.

Kennedy boarded his private plane with his expectant wife, Jacqueline, and their daughter, Caroline, 3. The plane is named for her pet Welsh terrier, Charlie.

Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline flew with Kennedy to Washington, where she will stay. Kennedy will rejoin his wife before the baby is born. The baby is expected in about three weeks.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market hit bottom hard Friday in corn, oats and rye futures while soybeans and old crop wheat contracts attracted strong support and moved well ahead.

Setbacks ran from major fractions in corn to a cent or more in oats and rye. Nearly all deliveries in the three pits slumped to new lows for the season while corn in the cash market sank to its lowest price in 18 years.

The No. 2 grade yellow corn sold as low as $1.01 a bushel in the cash trade, down 1/2 cents from the previous day and off about 15 cents from a year ago.

At the close, wheat was 1 cent a bushel higher to 1 1/4 lower, December $1.99 1/2-2.00; corn 1/4-1/2 lower, December $1.05 1/2-1.06; oats 1/4-1/2 lower, December $1.13 1/2-1.14; soybeans 1/4-1/2 higher, December $2.16 1/2-2.17.

Morse Pledges

Aid To Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., denied Friday that he planned to be a roadblock to the new administration because of reported hard feelings between him and President-elect John F. Kennedy over the Oregon primary.

"Nothing is further from the truth," Morse said in a statement. "Sen. Kennedy never made me any promise not to enter the Ohio primary, nor have I ever 'confided' to anyone that he did."

Kennedy was at the airport to say goodbye.

The President-elect told a reporter he plans to return to Hyannis Port to spend the Thanksgiving holiday.

Kennedy replied to messages from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Adenauer, in a message of congratulations, had wired Kennedy: "It is my firm wish that you and your family find a way to open a path for controlled disarmament, and thereby finally to give the world a genuine firm and lasting peace."

Kennedy messaged back: "I am grateful for your warm and generous message. You have been an indomitable leader of the free world and look forward to working with you in the years ahead, and certainly agree with you that the achievement of controlled disarmament is a necessity to guarantee world peace."

Macmillan's message, the second he has sent Kennedy since his election victory, was hand-delivered by D'Arcy Edmondson, British consul general in Boston. The letter said in part that Kennedy "will be taking the most powerful position in the world with responsibility matched by equal opportunity."

Kennedy wired back: "I know that our two great countries will work together in the future as they have in the past to further the cause of freedom throughout the world."

Macmillan earlier had wired congratulations, as did numerous other heads of state.

Three of Kennedy's top assistants flew with him. They are press secretary Pierre Salinger, special assistant Kenneth O'Donnell and political adviser Lawrence O'Brien. Also aboard were six Secret Service agents and three newsmen.

Kennedy's vacation schedule includes a trip to Texas to confer with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

EXPENSIVE WIFE?

Then be sure she sees this new air conditioned, ultra modern split-level 3 bedroom brick on Henderson Road in Western Hills, W.M. There are two complete baths, very expensive factory-built kitchen cabinets, built-in range, disposal, dishwasher and food mixer. 8 large closets, 5 telephone jacks, two sun decks, and a double carport.

PRETTY WIFE?

Naturally! We all think so, but there can be no doubt of the natural beauty of this new Colonial Style simulated brick almost completed on Western Avenue in Western Hills, W.M., overlooking Canyon Lake. If you are looking for something different, see this 3 bedroom beauty!

BUSY WIFE?

Maybe she's too busy running a taxi for the school

VIET NAM COUP

U.S. Is Seeking Rapid Chaos End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was reported seeking rapid restoration of political stability in South Viet Nam Friday to head off any danger of Communist intervention.

The State Department, which called for a return to public order and security in South Viet Nam, also watched with concern a new military-political flareup in Laos, another Southeast Asian country.

In Laos, a three-way division was deepened when an Army infantry battalion commander went on the radio to announce he is siding with a pro-Western faction and no longer recognizes the neutralist government. The third element in Laos' tangled political skein is the pro-Communist Pathet

Lao rebel group.

Both Laos and South Viet Nam are dependent on the United States for military and economic aid.

U.S. policy for years has been directed toward strengthening them and other Southeast Asian countries against pressures and threats from their Communist neighbors, Red China and North Viet Nam.

Thus, the United States has a heavy stake in the outcome of the internal struggles.

U.S. embassy officials in Saigon are understood to have been in touch both with the leaders of the paratroop battalions which reportedly overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem in a pre-dawn uprising, and with Diem representatives.

It was understood these officials were pressing the U.S. line set

Police Quell Riot

ALGIERS (AP) — French infantrymen and riot police Friday night finally battled down hot-headed students who turned a peaceful Armistice Day into a bloody riot against President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policy.

The students sacked the U.S. cultural center, wrecked buses, smashed windows, shouted "Algeria is French" and stoned police who intervened with teargas. They object to De Gaulle's plan to make this rebellion-torn North African territory an "Algerian Algeria." Although the rioters were formally disclaimed by the cooler-headed Front for French Algeria, which represents the dihard European settlers, they fought enthusiastically.

forth in a State Department statement here.

"With regard to the reports of the coup d'etat in Saigon," the State Department said, "we sincerely hope that the situation will soon be stabilized and public order and security restored."

"While it appears clear that the present action is not Communist-inspired, we are naturally concerned at any instability in a free nation bordering on Communist-held territory."

Beyond this, press officer William Blair declined any comment saying "the situation in Viet Nam is not clear."

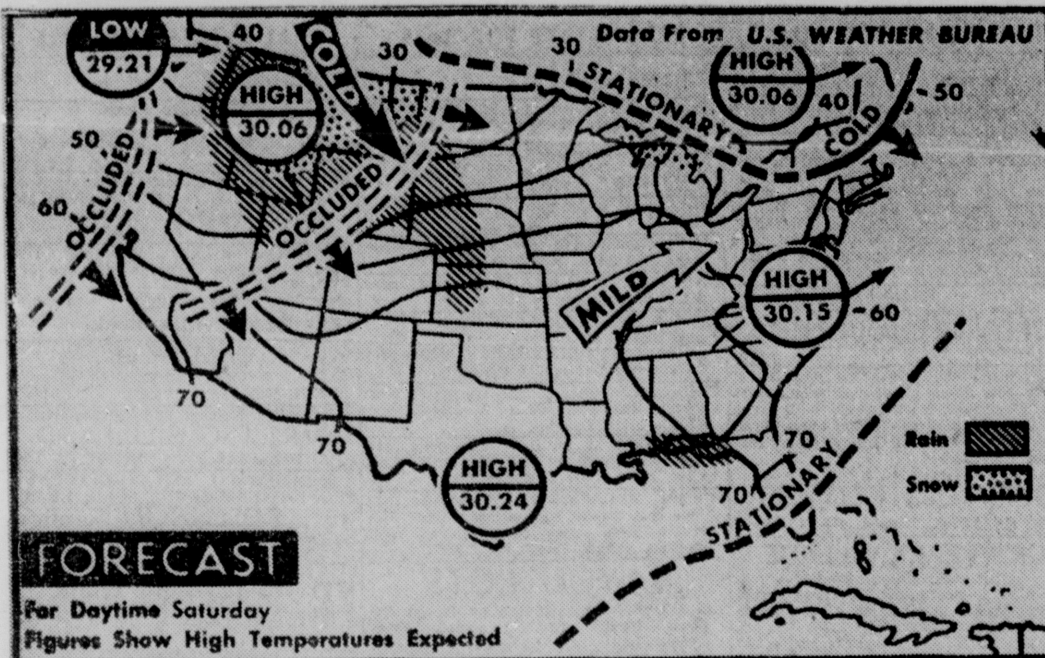

The rebels at Saigon, news dispatches said, set up a military regime for the state purpose of ending the rule of the Diem family and of strengthening the Vietnamese fight against Communist infiltration.

Diem is strongly pro-American. State Department officials said privately they had no reason to believe that the new military group would not be pro-American.

One possibility suggested here was that some kind of accommodation might be made between this group and Diem.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on the Far East, said he hoped the troubles in Viet Nam would be straightened out and "the merits and capabilities of President Diem...will continue to be recognized."

Mansfield's statement obviously parallels the thinking in U.S. diplomatic quarters.

ON SATURDAY some light rain is forecast for extreme east Gulf coast. A few snow showers are likely in upper Great Lakes region. Some light snow and rain showers are seen for the northern and central Rockies and light rain is indicated for west central Plains area. It should be warmer in the eastern U.S. and cooler in Rockies. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Thanksgiving Day Message

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday urged Americans to celebrate Thanksgiving Day by helping provide food to hungry people in other lands.

In his annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation, he called on Americans to give thanks to God on Nov. 24 for the blessing bestowed on the United States.

"It is fitting and appropriate at this time of national thanksgiving that we should remember and respond to the needs of those of other lands," he added.

"I call upon our people, while giving thanks for our blessings, to direct their thoughts to the peoples of other lands less fortunate than we.

"In particular I urge my fellow Americans to support and assist the efforts which we as a nation, working individually and in cooperation with other nations, are directing toward the solution of the world food problem."

Eisenhower asked added support and contributions to the food-for-peace program undertaken by voluntary citizens and religious groups.

He also appealed for generous aid to the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization which is sponsoring a freedom-from-hunger campaign.

"Let us hope that some day, under a benevolent providence and through the best use of the world's God-given resources, each nation will have reason to celebrate its own Thanksgiving Day," the President said.

VIET NAM COUP

U.S. Is Seeking Rapid Chaos End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was reported seeking rapid restoration of political stability in South Viet Nam Friday to head off any danger of Communist intervention.

The State Department, which called for a return to public order and security in South Viet Nam, also watched with concern a new military-political flareup in Laos, another Southeast Asian country.

In Laos, a three-way division was deepened when an Army infantry battalion commander went on the radio to announce he is siding with a pro-Western faction and no longer recognizes the neutralist government. The third element in Laos' tangled political skein is the pro-Communist Pathet

Lao rebel group. Both Laos and South Viet Nam are dependent on the United States for military and economic aid.

U.S. policy for years has been directed toward strengthening them and other Southeast Asian countries against pressures and threats from their Communist neighbors, Red China and North Viet Nam.

Thus, the United States has a heavy stake in the outcome of the internal struggles.

U.S. embassy officials in Saigon are understood to have been in touch with the leaders of the paratroop battalions which reportedly overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem in a pre-dawn uprising, and with Diem representatives.

It was understood these officials were pressing the U.S. line set

Police Quell Riot

ALGIERS (AP) — French infantrymen and riot police Friday night finally battled down hot-headed students who turned a peaceful Armistice Day into a bloody riot against President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policy.

The students sacked the U.S. cultural center, wrecked buses, smashed windows, shouted "Algeria is French" and stoned police who intervened with teargas.

They object to De Gaulle's plan to make this rebellion-torn North African territory an "Algerian Algeria." Although the rioters were formally disclaimed by the cooler-headed Front for French Algeria, which represents the diehard European settlers, they fought enthusiastically.

About 50 persons — rioters, police and soldiers — staggered away from the day's battlefields to get patched up in aid stations.

forth in a State Department statement here.

"With regard to the reports of the coup d'etat in Saigon," the State Department said, "we sincerely hope that the situation will soon be stabilized and public order and security restored."

"While it appears clear that the present action is not Communist-inspired, we are naturally concerned at any instability in a free nation bordering on Communist-held territory."

Beyond this, press officer William Blair declined any comment saying "the situation in Viet Nam is not clear."

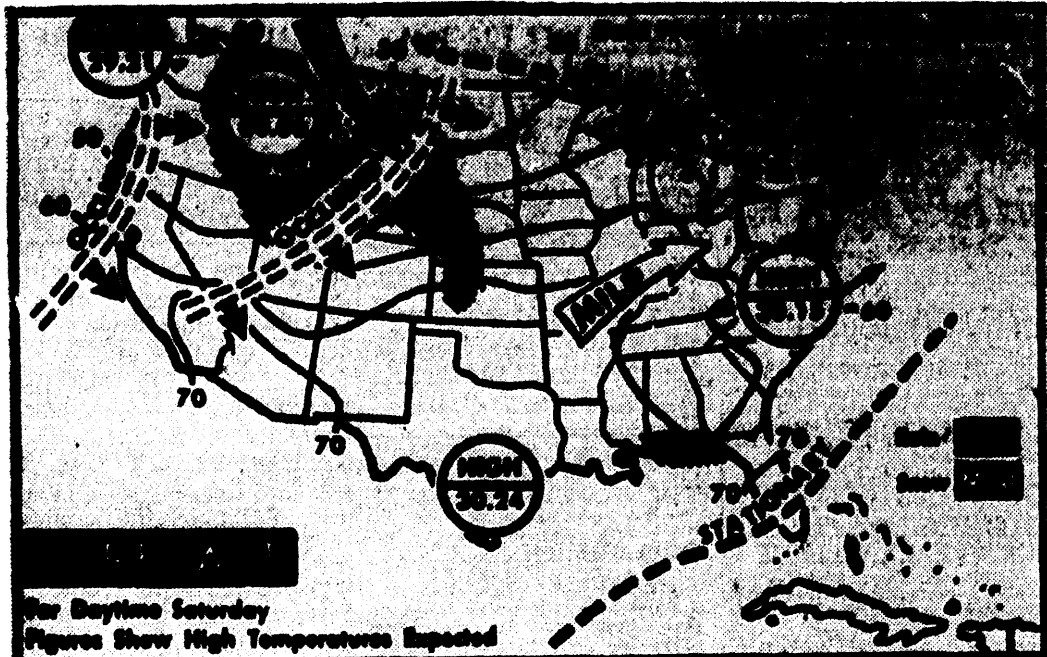

The rebels at Saigon, news dispatches said, set up a military regime for the state purpose of ending the rule of the Diem family and of strengthening the Vietnamese fight against Communist infiltration.

Diem is strongly pro-American. State Department officials said privately they had no reason to believe that the new military group would not be pro-American.

One possibility suggested here was that some kind of accommodation might be made between this group and Diem.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on the Far East, said he hoped the troubles in Viet Nam would be straightened out and "the merits and capabilities of President Diem... will continue to be recognized."

Mansfield's statement obviously parallels the thinking in U.S. diplomatic quarters.

Snow flurries were reported over the higher mountains of this area and in North Dakota. A few lingering showers were observed near the Northwest Coast. Elsewhere, precipitation was in the form of spotty snow in northern Michigan and isolated rain in the extreme southeastern part of the country. Generally fair weather extending from the north and middle Atlantic states into the southern plains was coupled to a high pressure area centered over Virginia. Generally fair skies also occurred from the southern half of the Rockies into southern California.

Unseasonably cold weather prevailed over most of the eastern half of the country except in the Florida where temperatures in the 80's were reported. Readings in the 20's extended from North Dakota through northern Minnesota into northern New England while the 40's were common from southern New England into the Carolinas and westward into the Ohio Valley and southern Great Lakes region. 30's and 60's prevailed from the South and Central Plains into the Central Gulf region.

Warmer temperatures are prospect for today over most of the area from the Atlantic States into the Southern Plains but cooler weather is in store for the northern Rockies and will accompany occasional rain. Rainfall may be heavy in California with possible heavy snow of up to three to four feet in the Sierras. A few showers or snow flurries may extend into the mountains of Wyoming and Colorado with a chance of showers reaching into western Nebraska and Kansas late in the day. Snow flurries are forecast from eastern North Dakota through northern Michigan into northern New England while a few showers are expected in southern Florida and occasional rain may occur in southern Texas. Elsewhere, fair or partly cloudy weather will prevail.

Ike Issues

Thanksgiving Day Message

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday urged Americans to celebrate Thanksgiving Day by helping provide food to hungry people in other lands.

In his annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation, he called on Americans to give thanks to God on Nov. 24 for the blessing bestowed on the United States.

"It is fitting and appropriate at this time of national thanksgiving that we should remember and respond to the needs of those of other lands," he added.

"I call upon our people, while giving thanks for our blessings, to direct their thoughts to the peoples of other lands less fortunate than we."

"In particular I urge my fellow Americans to support and assist the efforts which we as a nation, working individually and in cooperation with other nations, are directing toward the solution of the world food problem."

Eisenhower asked added support and contributions to the food-for-peace program undertaken by voluntary citizens and religious groups.

He also appealed for generous aid to the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization which is sponsoring a freedom-from-hunger campaign.

"Let us hope that some day, under a benevolent providence and through the best use of the world's God-given resources, each nation will have reason to celebrate its own Thanksgiving Day," the President said.
